NON-SUPPORT CASE

Was Aired in the Police Court Today

Denis A. Pendergast entered a plea of not guilty in police court today to a complaint charging him with failure to provide for his wife, Etta. Mrs. Pendergast had a little baby on her arm while she was testifying and informed the court that she had three children and had to go out doing washing in order to procure food for them. She said that her husband was of no use to her and that this was the sixth time that she had him before the court for non-support. Pendergast left this city a few days after the fourth and did not put in an appearance until last Tuesday, when he was arrested on a warrant. Pendergast was sentenced to three months in jail.

Case Continued

The case of Lorenzo and Lucien Daigle, charged with doing plumbing without a license, was continued till Aug. 15th by agreement of counsel in the case.

Raising a Disturbance

Mary Cavanaugh got crazy drunk in her house in North street last night, and before the police arrived on the scene she had smashed about every piece of furniture and china ware in the kitchen. Patrolman John W. Swanwick was attracted to the house by a

MRS. JUDITH FOSTER

Mrs. Foster was born in Lowell, Mass., in 1840, being educated in the New England public schools and at the Genesee Wesleyan seminary at Lima, N. Y.

OFF TO REVERE BROTHERS MEET

Annual Picnic of United Irish League Today

The annual outing of the local branch of the United Irish league is on today at Revere beach and Wonderland and while the threatening weather caused many to hesitate about going in the special cars which left Merrimack square about 8 o'clock this morning, a large crowd went down by train or trolley later in the day so that the affair was a success numerically as well as socially.

The vanguard of the leaguers left Lowell in two special electric cars and proceeded directly to Revere where weather conditions were found to be all right for bathing. The forenoon was devoted to the pleasures of a dip in the briny after which dinner was in order. The afternoon was devoted to the marvelous features of Wonderland.

WAS KNOCKED DOWN

Edward Durant, employed by the Bigelow Carpet company, was knocked down by a horse and slightly injured this forenoon. He was hitching the horse at the time of the accident. The ambulance was summoned and Durant, who lives at 44 Adams street, was removed to the Lowell hospital. It was stated at the hospital that his injuries were not at all serious.

SHELTER HOUSES

City Gov't. Committee Went to Brookline

TO GET A FEW POINTERS ON SWIMMING POOLS

Lowell Will Have Shelter Houses on Both Commons—City Engineer Bowers Explains About Employment of Help on Grade Crossing Work—City Treasury Will Receive a Slam Tomorrow

The committee on public convenience, Aldermen Adams and Byam, Councilmen Chapman (chairman), Morin and Gargan, went to Brookline today to look over the swimming pools connected with the shelter houses at that place. The erection of shelter houses on the North and South commons is among the things contemplated for Lowell and while the shelter houses in Lowell will not be nearly so elaborate as those in Brookline, the committee will be able to get a few pointers that will stand them in good stead. The swimming pool is the very important part of the shelter house. The pool is covered over in winter and used as a skating rink.

City Doesn't Hire Them

With reference to the grade crossing work in Plain and Lincoln streets, City Engineer Bowers, this forenoon, took occasion to remark that a great many people seemed to be laboring under a misapprehension relative to the employment of help for the grade crossing work. "I am getting the dickens" because local labor is not employed on the grade crossing work," said Mr. Bowers, "and I would like to set the public straight in this matter. I haven't anything to do with the employment of help on these jobs, neither has the mayor nor anybody else connected with the city. The laborers and others engaged at that work are hired by the contractors and the railroads let the contracts. The court appointed a commission and the commission ordered the railroads to go ahead and do the work. The city, of course, will have to stand its share of the expense but it hasn't anything to do with the employment of help. The railroads let the contracts and the contractors who get the different jobs hire their own men. Most of the contractors have what they call their steady men who work with them the year around going all over the country from job to job. What I want to emphasize, however, is that I have nothing to do and the city has nothing to do with the employment of help on the grade crossing jobs."

Mr. Bowers states that the grade crossing work is going along swimmingly. It will be necessary to keep Lincoln street closed until the bridge has been built across Plain street and that will be soon, as everything is in readiness for the steel, for which the contractors are waiting.

O You Bundle!

The sum of $20,157.66 will be paid out at the office of the city treasurer tomorrow and includes the monthly bill draft and weekly pay roll. The monthly bill draft amounts to $63,072.30 and the pay roll to $16,085.36. Nice vacation money—eh?

ROBT. T. PAINE VERY WEAK

WALTHAM, Aug. 11.—The death of Robert Treat Paine, philanthropist and president of the Anti-Imperialist league, is a question of hours, according to his physician. Mr. Paine has been semi-conscious since the stroke of paralysis a week ago which interrupted his recovery from the stroke of several months ago. He is one of the few great grandsons of a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

After many futile attempts, he resorted to a newspaper advertisement, which was seen by an old friend of the family in Hartford. He wrote to Dr. Clark at Providence, and a letter was sent to Edwin Clark in California.

As a result of the correspondence the California man came east to see his brother once more, and made the trip successfully, despite the fact that he is more than 81 years old.

The meeting was affecting. The brothers wept with joy as they clasped each other in their arms. The whole summer colony had been apprised of the reunion and the neighborhood of Dr. Clark's home was decorated in honor of the occasion. Many friends of Dr. Clark gathered to meet his brother, who came from Providence, accompanied by his nephews, Dr. Edwin Clark of Taunton, Dr. Fred L. Clark of New Bedford and Dr. Sylvester Clark of Providence.

The two brothers are the only survivors of 11 children.

SCOTTISH GAMES

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 11.—Accompanied by a band of ironing pipes hundreds of Scotchmen of Rhode Island and Massachusetts in plaid and kilts marched through the city today and steamed down the bay to a shore resort where Scottish games were held. The event was the fortieth annual field day of the California society of this city and was participated in by New York, Boston and Providence Highland dress societies, associations from New Bedford, Fall River and Scots from all over this state.

SCOTT'S SHIP OVERDUE
LONDON, Aug. 11.—Considerable anxiety is felt for Capt. Scott's Antarctic ship, the Terra Nova, now eleven days overdue at Capetown. The vessel has not been spoken since she left Madeira on June 17.

WOMEN TAKE PART

In the Sonder Yacht Races Off Marblehead

MARBLEHEAD, Aug. 11.—A thick northeast rainstorm was rolling into Massachusetts bay when the sonder yachtsmen prepared today for the last races of all thirteen boats in the elimination contests. Tonight the committee will give seven of the yachts commission to remain at anchor tomorrow and will ask the six remaining boats to come out for a couple of races in a single division. By Saturday it is believed that a couple of more boats will be wooded out and that the American team will be definitely decided upon that night. The sonder yachtsmen in the elimination trials are having a couple of yachtswomen as rivals on two of the boats. Yesterday Miss May Loring, sister of Caleb Loring of the Wolf, had the tiller in the American boats in a long, narrow bay where the winds are strong and New Rochelle tended the jib sheets on the Joyette for Skipper Swan. This is not the first year that women have gone into the sonder yacht game, for last year Miss Alice Sargent proved herself a good sailor and a plucky one by going into all the races in which the Samatra sailed and three of them were under her command. Several commands that were not unlike those which prevailed early today. Miss Loring has had considerable experience in small boat racing along the North shore and handled the Wolf yesterday like a veteran. Miss Fisher who has sailed a number of races in Long Island sound waters was so enthusiastic over the sonder boat type after yesterday's contest that she announced that she would have a boat of her own next year and hoped to obtain a place on an international team provided the chance is open. It is possible that she will go into the trial races for the German-American team which are to be held the first week in September.

These German-American trial races have been set for Buzzards bay where it is expected that conditions will resemble those at Kiel. It is the plan of the international committee to try out the American boats in a long, narrow bay where the winds are strong and the waves short and steep. Members of the Beverly and Spiccan clubs of Wings Neck and Marion have gone into the sonder boat racing this year with much enthusiasm but the failure of any of the Buzzards bay yachts to come round the cape for the Spanish trial races has caused considerable unfavorable comment among the Massachusetts bay yachtsmen and a number have announced that they will not enter the German trials next month.

A MILITARY BALL

To be a Feature of the C. T. A. U. Convention

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Although the Very Rev. Peter O'Callaghan of Chicago, national president of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, announced that he was not a candidate for re-election, it was generally conceded that his name would be placed before the delegates at the election of officers when the convention came to order in Faneuil hall today. In the event of the Rev. Father O'Callaghan declining it was expected that the Rev. Father J. B. Moynan of Scranton, Pa., national treasurer, would be nominated for president. There were interesting contests for the other offices.

The second day's session of the great temperance convention today was preceded by a solemn pontifical high mass in the cathedral of the Holy Cross. This mass was for the repose of the souls of the deceased members of the union.

BROTHER KILLED

He Was Struck by Lightning

THICSON, Ariz., Aug. 11.—After driving with one hand a team of bronchos for forty miles on a stormy night Alfred Villa delivered the body of his dead brother to his parents near this city last night. While driving through the storm the backboard in which the two boys were riding was struck by lightning, killing the younger boy instantly and paralyzing one side of the other. Regaining consciousness the elder brother headed the team for home, driving with his unaffected hand. Several other persons were stunned during the same storm.

McCARTHY

Lowell Boy Captures the $500 Trophy

CAMP PERRY, O., Aug. 11.—The $500 adjutant general's cup, hung up by the Ohio state rifle association for the best 1000-yard marksmanship in 20 shots, is coming to Boston. Private William H. McCarthy, of Lowell, a member of Co. C, 2d corps cadets, will bring it. He defeated 157 competitors yesterday by a score of 97 out of the possible 100.

By hitting the bullseye on his 20th shot Private McCarthy captured the handsome cup, which Sergeant J. W. Hiegle of the U. S. marine corps won last year, when it was first shot for Private George W. Chesley of the 2d Connecticut had scored 97 with a 4 for his final shot.

McCarthy and Chesley, it so happened, shot on the same target, and McCarthy's finish was the sensational event of the tournament so far. Private Chesley was on the Massachusetts team for seven years preceding 1905, when the rules eliminated him.

Private McCarthy gets not only the massive $500 cup, but also $25 and a gold medal. For seven years he shot on the 9th Massachusetts team. This is his first year in the state's delegation to the national shoot.

Among the Massachusetts scores in the adjutant general's match, which event the Bay states went into chiefly for practice for the national events, were Col. Upton 91, Lieut. Parker 90, Sergt. Daniels 88, Private Burnham 90, Qm. Sergt. Keough 89.

The 12 prize-winners ranked as follows:

Private W. H. McCarthy, Mass.	97
Private G. W. Chesley, Conn.	97
Capt. E. W. Eddy, Ohio	96
Lieut. Col. C. B. Winder, Ohio	96
Lieut. Glenn Vanauaden, Ind.	95
Sergt. F. Wahlstrom, U. S. M. C.	94
Capt. W. H. Richards, Ohio	94
Mal. C. C. Townsend, Colo.	94
Sergt. Victor Czeckle, U. S. M. C.	94
H. E. Simon, Ohio	94
Arthur Cook Smith, Colo.	92
Stewart, U. S. navy	92

The Dupont trophy match at 900 yards was won by Sergt. J. Grobenz of the 4th U. S. cavalry, who scored 19 bulls. Corp. T. Wortham, U. S. marine corps, got second honors with 16 bulls; Sergt. I. Garrett, Indiana, third with 13 and Sergt. L. Coyle, marine corps, fourth with 12.

THE NEW COMET

Discovered by Rev. Joel Metcalf

CAMBRIDGE, Aug. 11.—Further details concerning the discovery of a new comet by the Rev. Joel Metcalf of Taunton, announced yesterday, were made public at the Harvard college observatory today. The comet is of the eighth magnitude and is moving southward. The discovery was made on Aug. 8 and the approximate position on Aug. 8, 19 hours, Greenwich mean time, was right ascension, 16 hours 27 minutes, declination plus 15 degrees. On Aug. 9, 19 hours, Greenwich mean time, it had moved to right ascension 16 hours, 10 minutes, declination plus 15 degrees, 20 minutes. Translated into eastern standard time, these observations were made at 10.16 p. m. Aug. 8, and Aug. 9, respectively.

LOSS IS $8000

Fire in Saco, Me., This Morning

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 11.—Fire in the four tenement flat at 59 Middle street in Saco, owned by A. M. Goodwin, did $8000 damage this morning to house and contents. The cause is unknown. The damage to building is about $4000 by fire and water. The loss of Kenneth W. Sutherland, John G. Smith and Milton S. Atkinson, tenants, is practically total, by smoke and water. All were away on vacations. Frank E. Clark, the remaining tenant and only one at home, saved most of his furnishings in a damaged condition.

Insurance on the house is $3000. On contents Mr. Sutherland carried $300, Smith $1000, Atkinson $500, Clark $500. An explosion of hot air raised the whole front of the roof and the construction of the building hindered the firemen badly. The fire was controlled by the local department after about two and one-half hours.

Notice of the action of President Tobin was brought to Brockton yesterday by General Organizer Charles J. Mc Morrow, who instructed the local officers to turn their books and other records over to the general headquarters in Boston. Later Robert B. Upton, a special agent, carried the charter and books to Boston.

The revoking of the charter was the result of the suspension by the local union of Business Agent Frederick B. Studley because of dissatisfaction with the terms of a decision made by the state board of arbitration in a disagreement with the W. L. Douglas Co.

President Tobin ordered the man reinstated and when the union failed to straighten the matter out revoked the charter.

Unless some other arrangement is made, members in order to retain their union working card will have to become members-at-large, affiliating themselves with the general body and losing their local independence.

PRESIDENT TOBIN

REVOKES CHARTER OF BROCKTON SHOE WORKERS

BROCKTON, Aug. 11.—Pres. John F. Tobin of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union yesterday revoked the charter of the local stitchers' union, which numbers some 3500 members, and is the largest union associated with the national boot.

Notice of the action of President Tobin was brought to Brockton yesterday by General Organizer Charles J. tickets were demanded from the man, who refused to pay, and upon being told that he was a racial manager, and upon being told that this threat was a warning, "If you don't give me a hundred tickets your next Sunday school license will be held up."

A effort was then made to hold up the license for that theatre on the ground that there was no policeman at the entrance, and Mr. Walsworth explained that when the matter was brought to the attention of the state police they acted in good faith, believing that the selection in question was sincere.

The charge of graft was made earlier in the evening during a hearing on the collection of unpaid poll taxes by Fred S. Sackett, constable and former chief of police. Citizens crowded the Selectmen's room and protested against the methods of Sackett's haling. The selectmen executed the law as they were asked and they had sprung something new on them, inasmuch as unpaid poll taxes were allowed to go two years before drastic steps for their collection were taken.

The board was asked to remove Sackett as constable, but Chairman Walworth said there was some question whether they could do this legally. A consultation of the board and

NO BIDS RECEIVED

For Paving Loan of $120,000 for Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Aug. 11.—Apparently no bonding house was especially interested in this city's paving loan of $120,000, as not a bid was received yesterday when the time expired for proposals. This apathy is regarded as a consequence of the tangled municipal affairs, which have existed since Mayor William F. White was sentenced to the house of correction for conspiracy.

The showing of the city's assets given in the fiscal statement that accompanied the call for bids set forth that on July 25 the city had a borrowing capacity of $201,105.22, and counsel for the Boston banking house that handles the city's loans gave assurance of the legality of the issue.

The total loan authorized is $350,000, of which it was proposed to have $30,000 taken by the municipal sinking funds, leaving $120,000 to be disposed of in the open market. The rate of interest is fixed at not more than 4 per cent and in some quarters there was a belief that this rate did not appear attractive to those having money to loan.

Work has already been begun on a portion of the paving project for Broadway from the Falls bridge to the Methuen line and on other streets. The contractor having the Broadway section has already opened up a long stretch and work is in progress on Railroad street and Essex street. With no money available to make payments it is likely work will be suspended unless some provision is made to tide over the emergency.

GRAND TRIBUTE

To the Memory of John Boyle O'Reilly

"Thank God for one dead friend. With face still radiant with the light of truth.

Whose love comes laden with the scent of youth

Through twenty years of death."

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—With these words of the illustrious poet fresh in their minds, the members of the John Boyle O'Reilly club stood in their places at their memorial meeting, held at the Exchange club yesterday, and offered a silent toast for him who, 20 years after his demise, still lives fresh in their minds.

About the board were those who in life had been proud to call him friend and companion. Among them were ex-mayors of the city in which he had accomplished so much, an ex-governor, who had known him in life, and of the good deeds he had done for the commonwealth, men who in their daily life had seen him battle in the hour of life and gained personally by following the example he had set them, and also one who was instrumental in giving to Boston and New England the illustrious John Boyle O'Reilly. This latter was Captain Henry C. Hathaway, who rescued O'Reilly from his Australian prison.

Preserve Dowth Castle

One of the principal features of the commemorative exercises was the suggestion made by Mayor John F. Fitzgerald that some action should be taken by the club, Irish societies and the British government to preserve Dowth Castle, where the poet was born.

In the words of the mayor it was now a puzzle for a visitor to find his way to the castle, and he expressed the hope that within a few years this would not be the case and that the castle should become so cared for that visitors to Ireland would have no trouble in finding the birthplace of O'Reilly.

To men to the memory of the one whom they had gathered together to honor were also contributed, one from the pen of Miss Katherine E. Conway, read by William H. Leahy, secretary to the mayor, and others by Joseph Smith and Denis McCarthy.

Those present were: Ex-Gov. Curtis Guild, Jr., Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, ex-Mayor Thomas Hart, ex-Mayor Josiah Quincy, Judge Robert Grant, Gen. Charles H. Taylor, Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, Stephen O'Meara, Capt. Henry C. Hathaway, James S. Murphy, Judge John H. Burke, Edward H. Clement, J. Mitchell Galvin, George F. Babbitt, P. M. Keating, Otis Kimball, Joseph Smith, H. Staples Potter, William H. Leahy, George G. Crocker, Alexander Stearns, J. H. O'Neill, Dr. P. A. Harris, J. T. Wheelwright, James W. Dunphy, E. B. Lawler, C. D. L. Wagon, Dr. F. J. Kearny, Judge E. C. Bumpus, James E. Cotter, A. C. Rathschesky, Judge M. J. Murray, Charles E. Gorman, James J. Phelan, Denis McCarthy, Humphrey O'Sullivan, J. D. McLaughlin, Col. T. W. Higginson, Judge Charles A. DeCoursey, Benjamin Kimball, Edward F. McSweeney, M. J. Dwyer, Harry J. McGlennan, William F. Fitzgerald and A. Shuman.

SEEING THE SIGHTS

BOYS ARRESTED IN NASHUA SPENT DAY AT LAKEVIEW

NASHUA, N. H., Aug. 11.—Three boys, John Pease, aged 14, and Jerome Baker and James Holman, each 13 years old, are at the police station for safe keeping, after a long trip from their respective homes in Revere, Mass., which they undertook yesterday.

Patrolman James Winn found them wandering on the streets last night at a time when all small children should be in bed, and, after questioning them, decided to take them to the station. By the boys' story, it appears that they left Revere yesterday morning and spent the day at Lakeview park outside of Lowell. In the evening they took an electric car for Nashua, and upon arrival in this city went to a moving picture show. When they came out of the theatre it was too late for them to get back to their homes. They will be returned home today, in all probability.

LOWELL MAN FINED

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 11.—Albert L. Paul, of Lowell, Mass., who was arrested by Patrolman Conlon for speeding at the rate of eighteen miles an hour on Union street, pleaded guilty to court on Wednesday and was ordered to pay a fine of $10 with costs of $4.62.

FARMER ROBBED

He Was Attacked by Yeggs at Plymouth, N. H.

Mr. Robinson suffered the loss by fire of his farmhouse some few years ago, since which time he has lived in the village. It was customary for him to work daily upon his farm land and to carry his dinner, yesterday, while eating from his dinner pail near the front door of his barn, he was accosted by a tramp, who inquired the distance to Plymouth. While conversing he was approached from the rear by another, who clubbed him into insensibility. He was stripped of his trousers, frock and stockings, and relieved of a pocketbook containing some $8 in silver and bills.

For four hours Mr. Robinson lay unconscious, not regaining his senses until about 5 o'clock. With great difficulty he made his way to the nearby farmhouse of David Glynn, where he told his story and was given such aid as was possible. The news was telephoned to the village and later last evening Mr. Robinson was removed to his home where he is being attended by Dr. Ezra C. Chase.

He is suffering from severe bruises on the back of the head, the result, without doubt, of a severe blow with a sandbag. As he was struck he pitched forward and has a cut an inch long where he hit upon the floor of the barn. The robbers stayed around long enough to devour the dinner that Mrs. Robinson had prepared for her husband, after which they departed. While he was not perfectly clear last night in his recollections, Mr. Robinson described one of his assailants as about 5 feet 10 inches tall and as wearing a soft black felt hat and gray coat. The other he is unable to describe. Four tramps were held in the lockup last night.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 11.—Inspector Charles Laflamme of the Lowell, Mass., police department was in Manchester Wednesday and called on Sergeant John T. O'Dowd at the police station. The inspector was on a pleasure trip with the members of his family in his automobile.

GREAT SURPLUS STOCK SALE

The Turning Point In the Season's Business

Is at hand and while there are yet many weeks of summer weather, the days for selling summer merchandise are getting few. We have finished stocktaking, have closed a very successful six months' business and are planning now for the fall season. Every buyer in the store this week received orders to clean up stocks and close out as far as possible, every item of summer goods regardless of cost or profit. How well every department has carried out instructions can be seen by the remarkable price offerings in this advertisement. You will find every single item a bargain event and this Semi-Annual Surplus Stock Sale an occasion to be remembered for its money saving opportunities.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was 16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.If conditions on Boston common are half as bad as the yellow journals claim, the wonder is that no one ever heard about these dreadful dangers until Fitzzy and O'Meara began to quarrel.We no longer consider the bravery of the soldiers who have faced the guns of the enemy; indeed we have almost forgotten them in view of the latter day bravery. The brave men of our day are the congressmen who had the courage to face the Cannon's mouth.Automobile races are very good things in their way for sport, for speed tests and for stimulating trade in automobiles, but we doubt very much if they are any indication of the excellence of a car for ordinary purposes. The car that can make a mile in the shortest time is not always the most desirable car for the man who wants to use it in a rational way.

TAFT LAYS DOWN NEW RULE

President Taft in his speech at Rockland laid down a very good rule, and one which all future presidents should follow. The president got to a point in his speech where he must either change the subject or talk politics.
He hesitated long enough to say, "A president of the United States should never talk politics," and the audience cheered to the echo. When his auditors at Rockland cheered the whole country cheered. He was right.
A president should not talk politics.

RUINING SMOOTH PAVED STREETS

It does seem a pity to see men tearing up our beautiful smooth pavements in the center of the city in order to put down pipes, wires and other necessary things for the adjoining buildings. Perhaps the men who take up the paving are able to set it down again in as good condition as they found it, but they don't always do it. Unless the repair work on smooth paved streets is done better in the future than it has been in the past, we will be obliged to compel the abutters to tunnel under the street as they are obliged to do in other cities instead of breaking up the paving at the surface.

THE WIRELESS AT SEA

After this year all ocean steamers carrying more than the minimum number of passengers will be compelled to equip with some form of wireless telegraphy. This is a wise provision of law, and everyone will be pleased to learn of its enactment. Passengers on ocean liners are entitled to the benefits of every safety device, just as our railway passengers are protected by the adoption of every railroad life saving invention. When all the ocean steamers are equipped with wireless telegraphy, travel by sea will be robbed of practically all its dangers.

AFRAID OF ROOSEVELT

There are wise old men in this country, who when you speak of Theodore Roosevelt shake their heads in a knowing way, and say: "Dangerous man, dangerous man, is that Roosevelt." What do they mean? Are they afraid that "Teddy" will place a crown upon his head, or that he will come down upon the people as the man on horseback. If they have any such fears they are not well founded. If Roosevelt is dangerous to the country, he is fully as dangerous to himself. When he shows any symptoms of improper ambition the country is big enough to take care of "Teddy," and many more like him. Roosevelt is more dangerous to himself than he is to anyone else, for in his love for show and public applause he may some day lose some of the discretion, which has stood by him thus far, and go beyond proper limits. When he does the American people will take the conceit out of Mr. Theodore Roosevelt in very short order. Meanwhile he is riding to a fall as a political boss, or we miss our guess.

WE CANNOT CAST THE FIRST STONE

Poor Lawrence, our sister city down the river, is in a sorry plight.
Not only is she in disgrace, but she is also financially embarrassed. Her credit has gone down to so low an ebb that she has to pay a higher rate of interest for borrowed money than merchants on our streets have to pay on ordinary commercial paper.Her former mayor is in jail; her city fathers are quarrelling; the treasury is empty, and needed improvements and repairs are likely to come to a standstill through the lack of funds. And who brought Lawrence to this state of disgrace and embarrassment? Who but the fool voters, who always take delight in voting for fool candidates and street brawling reformers.Yet we should be the last to cast a stone at our sister city, for we have also been guilty of sin, and what is more, we sincerely believe that if the ex-mayor of Lawrence should be released from jail today, and should come to the city of Lowell and talk to its citizens from the street corners, assail everything and everybody in sight, and make the most ridiculous promises, there would be hundreds, yea, thousands, of thoughtless, reckless fool voters in our city who would do their utmost to put him into power at city hall. And what is most unaccountable they would do all this the more readily if they knew for a certainty that he would be likely to bring disgrace and embarrassment upon our city and give us a horrible spectacle of fool administration and public turmoil, and keep up a holy municipal show from one end of the year to the other. But fortunately for this and other cities, the number of voters who would do this sort of thing a second time is growing less and less each day and at the present time they are not numerous enough to bring any more disgrace upon cities that have been through the fire of bitter experience.

SEEN AND HEARD

PA'S MUCH-NEEDED REST
Pa's got back from his vacation and his nose is peeling and red.
And he's crosser than darnation, and his hoarse throat is full of dread;
He keeps flyn' on the handle more than forty times a day.
Ma's afraid he'll start a scandal if he keeps on long this way.When he went he said: "I'm goin' where I'll have a chance to rest, where there ain't no whistles blowin'
and no need of keepin' dressed;
I am goin' where they'll let me lie around just as I please.
With no telegrams to fret me and my friends the silent trops.""Don't you dare write letters to me, I'll get 'em, if you do.
There no fool friends shall pursue me,
and I'll get built up again;
What I need is sleep and quiet; what I want is to lie down Far from all the rush and riot and the hoorah of the town."So he went alone, intendin' not to fret a bit or fuss,
And he took no time for sendin' postal cards back home to us.
He's returned from his vacation, and his nose is peeling and sore,
And he's crosser than darnation and more nervous than before.
—S. B. Kiser.Don't expect any more of your friends than you are willing to do for your friends. Even so, you are likely to be disappointed.Possibly every man has his price, but many a man can't get it.The neighborhood would look better if the man who has his house painted regularly every year, even when it doesn't need it, would spend the money for painting some of the houses around that do need it.Of course, it is too much to expect that all your household arrangements will meet with the approval of the man who comes out from a big city store to lay a carpet.To judge a man's real character, don't regard his daily work. Find out what his hobby is.No doubt it is true that the world is getting better all the time, but are you doing your full share?If Mr. Bartlett had lived long enough to compile a "Dictionary of Misquotations," he could have made a good-sized book.A poet writes: "The world is not my friend." Perhaps it would help some if he would quit trying to write poetry.To be sure, poverty is not a crime, but then, wealth isn't, either.

William E. Livingston Co., 15 Thorndike St.

Business Established 1828

but a decent man has to do a lot of things in this world that don't pay.A woman who is paying her seventeen-year-old servant $22 a month was asked by her husband to have the girl boil a couple of eggs for breakfast.
She told the girl to put a pot of water on the fire, let it come to a boil, and when boiling to put in the eggs. In order to time the cooking of the eggs she has a three minute sand glass. The girl was told to turn it up and as soon as the sand went through to take out the eggs. She soon discovered that the girl had put the sand glass into the water and left the eggs on the washbowl. The madam asked her why she had done this, and she replied: "Why, you told me to.""Any one who stops to consider the number of persons hurrying in a railway station will understand the constant danger of collision we meet with at all hours of the day," said the station attendant. "When we see a person coming at full speed we stand still and let him go the dodging, thus saving endless time and trouble. I lose the person himself uses the same method, as was the case with the man I just encountered. It looked like a deadlock for a moment. Both of us were surprised, and in our embarrassment we dodged the same way, and it was really several minutes before we got straightened out and safely by each other."Said the woman who finds sweetness and light in the homeliest things, of earth to the man who was raking copper cents out of the gutter your weight and get your money back weighing machine till:"I am so glad to find you preaching a lesson to cynics by selling your machine bang up against another machine. It would be so easy for people to weigh themselves on that machine first and then bet on a sure thing. You must have great faith in human nature, haven't you?""No, ma'am," said he, "but we have in the machine."

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Mrs. William Butler of Newton Centre, known and honored among Methodists throughout the world as "Mother"
Butler, who has just celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary, received a cable message from Baroda, India, announcing the informal opening of a hospital for women and children erected in honor of this beloved missionary in the capital of the Gakwar, the Indian prince who lately visited Boston. The building, which cost about twenty thousand dollars, will be for the relief of women and children. Dr. Belle J.
Allen, the physician in charge, is a Boston University graduate and prepared specially for this work by postgraduate courses in Vienna. Prominent officials of Baroda state have expressed their interest in this philanthropy.
Mrs. Butler was largely instrumental in sending the first woman physician to the women of India in 1879, and has always been closely identified with the effort to afford medical aid to the secluded inmates of Oriental zenanas.
In spite of her advanced age Mrs. Butler is able to travel and has given four addresses, three in Washington, this summer, in behalf of India. She is deeply interested in the coming session of the general executive committee of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, which will be held in the First church, Temple street, Boston, in October. It will be 32 years since this national meeting was held in Boston, where the society was organized by Mrs. Butler and seven other women in 1878, and which has disbursed more than ten millions of dollars since that time for foreign missionary work.Miss Helen L. Sumner, Ph. D., University of Wisconsin, has been appointed by the United States government to investigate the industrial courts of Prussia and Germany, spending a month in Paris and the same time in Berlin. As an American delegate she will attend the International labor convention to be held in Switzerland in September. Dr. Sumner is the author of "Equal Suffrage."The executive committee of the American Academy of Rome has announced the result of the competition held to select the beneficiaries of the academy for the year 1910. The prize in architecture was won by Richard Hav-iland Smythe of New York; the prize in sculpture by Albin Polasek of Philadelphia, and the prize in painting by Henry Lawrence Wolfe of New York.
The winners became pensionnaires of the academy. They will leave in September for Italy, and will live at the Villa Mirafiori in Rome for three years, where they will work under the supervision of Frederick Crowninshield, the resident director.Richard Haviland Smythe was born in Brooklyn, and is a graduate of the Polytechnic Preparatory. He is also a graduate of Columbia university, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts and followed the course in architecture. Albin Polasek was born in Prestin, Moravia, of Bohemian parents. He came to America in 1901, and studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in Philadelphia. He received the Edmund Stewardson prize in sculpture, the McClellan prize in anatomy, the Grafty prize in composition, and the Cresson traveling scholarship in 1907, 1908 and 1909. Henry Lawrence Wolfe was born in New York, received a high school education, studied two years under Chase and Beckwith at the New York School ofArt, and four years at the Pennsyvania Academy of Fine Arts, where he received three prizes in composition and the Cresson traveling scholarship in 1909.In this year's competitions the problem given to the competitors in the architectural division was a proposed government building for a bureau of fine arts on the Mall in Washington.
The jury was composed of: Brock Trowbridge, John M. Carrere, William
R. Mead, A. A. Weinman and Francis
C. Jones. The tests for the sculptors were studies in anatomy and drawing single figures and a large decorative panel in relief. The jury consisted of Herbert Adams, A. A. Weinman, Chas.
Keck, Brock Trowbridge and C. Y.
Turner. The problems upon which the painters were judged consisted of decorative panels. The jury consisted of H. Siddons Mowbray, Charles Brock, Francis C. Jones, Brock Trowbridge and A. A. Weinman. The American academy in Rome was founded by the late Charles F. McKim and is modeled after the French academy in Rome. Among those who have contributed large sums to its support are J. P. Morgan, W. K. Vanderbilt, Henry Walters, James Stillman, Henry C. Frick and Harvard university. The president of the academy, William R.
Mead, who is at present in the ropes, will visit the academy next month. By the will of the late Mrs. Hylan a magnificent property, the Villa Aurelia, with its beautiful gardens overlooking the city of Rome, was bequeathed to the academy.

Stanley Says Wife Took
His $2000FALL RIVER, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Annie Stanley, wife of Walter Stanley, left town about a week ago while her husband was absent on a vacation. Mr.
Stanley charges she disposed of all the household furniture and drew about $2000 from the bank which belonged to him. About the same time a boarder, James Hannigan, also went away. On Thursday night both returned to this city from Philadelphia. Mrs. Stanley was desirous of getting a trunk she had left behind, but the pair fell into the hands of the police.Her husband was sent for. As soon as he saw his wife he seized a pocketbook in her hand, which proved to contain $1150. This he kept.In district court yesterday morning Mrs. Stanley and Hannigan were arraigned on a statutory charge. The woman was sentenced to one year at Sherborn prison and Hannigan for a like period in the house of correction.

HOUSE ENTERED

Holes Were Drilled to Blow

Open Safe

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Word reached police headquarters late yesterday afternoon that the house of Robert Treat Paine, Jr., Queensberry street, Back Bay, had been broken into recently and the contents turned upside down, although nothing was taken, so far as it has been possible to learn.It is thought that the break took place the night before last, while many of the officers of division 16 were on special detail at the big fire in the South End. The police cannot be certain of this, however, for the house is in a neighborhood through which comparatively few people pass in the summer time. When the Paine family left the city for the summer, closing the house, no notice of the fact was given at station 16, so no special watch was kept upon the house.Investigation showed that the burglars entered the house by a back door and locked this door behind them.
Not only was every room in the house ransacked, bureau drawers and closets being thoroughly looted by the burglars, but it seems an attempt was also made to wreck a big safe, in which were kept papers of value.The loot taken from the various rooms was found piled in a heap behind this safe, in which numerous holes had been drilled, and near which was discovered nitroglycerine. The police theory is that it was the intention of the burglars to blow open the safewhen some unusual noise on the outside of the house caused them to take alarm and flee, and that so great was their haste to get away that they neglected to take any of the jewelry and other things they had pilloped up.A window in the front of the house, from which the burglar alarm had been removed, showed plainly which way the burglars escaped.Mr. Paine himself was the one who reported the attempted robbery to station 16, he having gone to the house through the mercer chance. The Back Bay police kept the matter secret, not even notifying headquarters of the robbery, in order that they might thoroughly investigate the premises and get some clew to the thieves.As soon as police headquarters heard of the affair Inspector Conboy was detached on the case.

DIRIGIBLE BALLOON WILL HAVE CENTER OF STAGE

By CHARLES N. LURIE.

O H, yes, those big gas bags with paddles are all right. BUT—There was a world of meaning in that "but" as it was enunciated by a well-known aeronaut. He had been asked for his opinion about dirigible balloons in particular and in general about the coming of the dirigible. His answer epitomizes the patronizing attitude taken by most of the aeronauts toward their hydrogen-dependent rivals. To the heavier-than-air fliers the balloon is a joke—a tragic joke, perhaps, when one of the big gas bags falls and adds its victims to the rapidly lengthening list of dead aeronauts, but none the less a joke.

Well, perhaps the recent history of aviation bears them out in their attitude. It may as well be confessed openly that the dirigible balloon, big as it is, has been overshadowed recently by its smaller and more bird-like rival. Its successes have been too few to enable it to contest seriously with the aeroplane for public attention and favor. Should the Wellman attempt to cross the Atlantic in a dirigible succeed, however, one may hope for a revival of public interest in the balloon.

Balloon Versus Aeroplane.

"The relative merits of the dirigible balloon and the aeroplane are so obvious that it is hardly worth while pointing them out," said the editor of one of the leading American scientific magazines. It may, however, be well to call attention to the basic difference between the two. The aeroplane depends for its success upon its ability to fly so swiftly through the air by means of its engine, its propeller and its planes that it literally has no time to fall to the ground. The underlying principle was well illustrated recently by citing the case of a flat stone shielded swiftly toward a pond and making a succession of bounds along the surface of the water before it sinks. The aeroplane does the same thing on or in the air, with the important difference that it keeps going unless something untoward happens to its engine or structure or unless it is the will of its operator to shut off the engine and then descend to earth by means of the deflation of its planes. The balloon, on the other hand, is sustained in the air by the lifting power of the hydrogen with which it is filled and which is lighter than the air. It is sent forward by a propeller or propellers, actuated by a gasoline engine or engines. In the same manner as those of an aeroplane.

Of recent balloon trips the most gigantic successful and the most gigantic disastrous have been those of Count Zeppelin. The history of long continued endeavor toward highly desirable ends contains few cases comparable with that of the gallant old German who fought for decades to make his dirigible balloon a commercial success, saw his hopes realized in the establishment of a passenger-carrying air route, with a regular timetable and fixed rates of fares, only to have his hopes literally dashed to the ground by a gale of wind. At the time of writing his future plans are not fixed, but it is reported that he is not discouraged and that the believers in him are sustained by the published opinions that the disaster to the great passenger-carrying Deutschland was due to "overconfidence and a certain amount of negligence, a humanly excusable consequence of the enthusiasm engendered by the first success."

The wreck of the Deutschland came during a storm. "What should have been done with the unprepared ship was to have reached a place of shelter in the shortest possible time by going with the storm, but, like a skilled mariner, working steadily away from the center. Precious hours were absolutely wasted while trying to stem the tide of the wind," says one authority. There is a Zeppelin north pole balloon expedition, but it has not attracted much notice.

Nearly Two Score Balloon Victims.

The passengers and the crew of the Deutschland escaped with their lives

when the balloon met with disaster in the Teutoburg forest. Oscar Eersbloh and his four companions were not so fortunate when they were killed by the fall of their dirigible a few days later, adding to the nearly two score men who have been killed by falls from balloons, drowning, explosions, etc., in the past four years. The aeroplane has not claimed so many victims, but its history is shorter than that of the dirigible. Men were sailing in big "balloons with paddles" and making headway in them before the mechanical birds proved their practicability.

In the opinion of the Scientific American, declared before the Deutschland came to grief, "the aeroplane will be the touring car of the air and the dirigible the aerial omnibus. The rapid and comfortable transportation of individuals will undoubtedly be the immediate outcome of the great improvements that are continually being made in dynamic flight." But the same authority had previously declared, in reference to the wrecking of the huge dirigible Zeppelin II, that "although the dirigible has proved to be perfectly stable and to possess the ability to fight its way against winds of considerable strength, the latest disasters emphasize the fact that whenever these huge and delicate fabrics approach or are in contact with the ground they are in imminent danger of destruction. In this respect, they are in the same class as the ocean steamship, whose captain cares little what winds may blow when once he is clear of the land with everywhere deep water below his keel, but whose anxieties increase in proportion as the water shoals and the vessel again approaches the coast line. The peril of the dirigible lies in its huge bulk and the great area which it exposes to the pressure of the wind. These ships of the air should remain as far as possible permanently aloft, tying up when they wish to make a stop to lofty steel mooring towers, which they must approach end on, and to which they must make fast by cables from the bow."

Tying up to lofty steel mooring towers, folding up the wings and going quietly to sleep is obviously an impossible proceeding for the heavier-than-air aviator. He cannot remain in the air for an indefinite period and float in it like his hydrogen-sustained brother. His only resting place is on the surface of the earth.

For similarly obvious reasons Walter Wellman, explorer and newspaper man, after his departure from America for Europe via the air route in September, will not be able to remain suspended in the air. He will have to keep going until he reaches his European destination or turn around and return to America, thus confessing failure, or fall into the sea. In the last named case his life and those of his companions may be saved, but his expedition will fail.

Wellman's Record of Failure.

It is a question whether Wellman would prefer to escape with his life in case his contemplated aerial journey fails. He has tested already the bitterness of defeat in big enterprises several times and seems to have set his heart upon success this time. Three times he has sought to reach the north pole, once by sledge route and twice through the air. His failures have brought no discouragement to him; yet, but he is fifty-two years old, he suffers from a permanent injury to the leg received in the arctic regions, and as "the man in the street" might say, he is "about due" for a big success. Perhaps he will achieve it in his coming venture and drop in on London with a message from New York delivered through the air, but not by wireless telegraph.

A heavier-than-air machine may and probably will cross the ocean in the future—so optimistic are we—but there seems little likelihood that an aeroplane will be the first transatlantic flier. That honor seems reserved for a dirigible.

If careful, thorough preparations and calculation of chances count for much, Wellman deserves success. He has figured down to a nicety the lifting capacity of his great balloon, the America, the propulsive power of his motors and his margins of safety and is satisfied that crossing the Atlantic in a dirigible is well within the bounds of possibility. Naturally his previous enthusiasms in the matter of reaching the north pole by airship and the wide margin between anticipation and realization in those cases are cited against the explorer, but he is undaunted. With him, as with Peary, the Wrights and others, "this time" is the only time that counts.

The Wellman dirigible balloon, the America, contains some of the parts of the one which met with disaster near Spitzbergen. It is second in size only to the biggest Zeppelin airship, being 228 feet over all in length, with an extreme diameter of fifty-two feet. The volume of the great gas bag is 345,000 cubic feet, having a lifting capacity of more than 24,000 pounds, or twelve tons. The power of the motors is such that the airship will be propelled across the Atlantic, from the neighborhood of New York to the neighborhood of London, in from six to ten days, according to the strength of the favoring winds—that is, it will be if the sanguine expectations of Mr. Wellman and his four companions are realized.

Motor Boats to Brave Niagara Current

FOR the possibility of acquiring $1,000 in cash and a medal worth $500 and undying fame—or notoriety—would you undertake a trip in a motorboat through the whirlpool rapids of the Niagara river? Before you reply refresh your memory of the rapids if you have seen them. If you have never beheld the angry, white-capped waters throwing their spume toward the sky look at them before sending in your entry. Then if you still desire to enter the coming contest do so. The sure, however, to invoke the providence of the recklessly daring before intrusting your craft to the waters of the Niagara river. If that falls you when the terrible current racks your boat, your engine and yourself nothing on earth can save you.

Despite the known and almost certain chances of disaster awaiting the man who ventures himself, in or out of a boat, on Niagara's current, several have signified their intention of attempting the feat on Sept. 17. They know the fate that has met the majority of the hardy adventurers in the past, but they are avid of the fame of a sort—that comes to the person who goes into Niagara's waters and comes out alive. No motorboat has met the test up to the present time. Men have gone through the whirlpool rapids in barrels, one of them, Carlisle D. Graham, no less than five times. Graham has swum the lower rapids, a sufficiently perilous feat in itself, but not to be compared with the passage of the whirlpool rapids. One man has tempted fate successfully by going through the whirlpool rapids in an open boat, by a miracle escaping with his life.

One boat containing an engine has passed through the whirlpool rapids. That was the old Maid of the Mist, in 1861. The three men on board were unharmed, but the vessel was damaged. Since that time, with the exception of the rowboat of Peter Misen, mentioned above, no boat has ever passed through the rapids successfully. One who has stood on the banks of Niagara's gorge and has watched the waters of the river foaming against the rocks of the whirlpool rapids, throwing their spray high into the air, finds difficulty in understanding how any one can be found daring or foolhardy enough to attempt the passage. It must be borne in mind that the narrow river, with its exceedingly swift current, bears in its channel the waters of the great lakes after they have thrown themselves over the awful leap at Niagara falls. At the whirlpool rapids the river narrows, intensifying the speed of the current. Dashing against the invisible rocks beneath the surface, which break up the water into waves comparable to the ocean surf when a storm is on the waters, the rapids make a spectacle second in interest and beauty only to the falls.

One of the best descriptions of the whirlpool rapids, through which the contestants in the coming race are asked to pass, is that by William Dean Howells:

"The impression of force is overwhelming. The surges did not look like the gigantic ripples on a river's course, as they were, but like a procession of ocean billows. They rose aloft in vast bulks of clear green and broke heavily into foam at the crest. Here, within the compass of a mile, those inland seas of the north—Superior, Huron, Michigan, Erie—and the multitudes of smaller lakes, all pour their floods, where they whirl in dreadful vortices, with resistless undercurrents boiling beneath the surface of that mighty eddy. Abruptly from this scene of secret power, so different from the thunderous splendors of the cataract itself, rise lofty cliffs on every side to a height of 200 feet, clothed from the water's edge almost to their crests with dark cedars. Noiselessly, so far as your senses perceive, the lakes steal out of the whirlpool, then, drunk with brawling rapids, roar away to Ontario through the narrow channel of the river.

"Awful as the scene is, you stand so far above it that you do not know the half of its terrible force, for those waters that look so smooth are great ridges and rings, forced by the impulse of the currents twelve feet higher in the center than at the margin. Nothing can live there, and with what is caught in its hold the maelstrom plays for days and whirled and tossed round and round in its coils, with a sad, maniacal patience."

The conditions of the coming contest call for a passage by a motorboat from a point near the Canadian landing of the Maid of the Mist (the little steamer which takes tourists into the face of the American and Canadian falls), down to and around a turn about half a mile below Queenston dock, thence to Fitz's dock at Lewiston. Thus the boats will have to pass under the famous suspension bridge, through the whirlpool rapids and the great whirlpool itself. One of the boats which will attempt the feat is the Rabbit's Foot, shown in the illustration.

One motorboat authority, deprecating the idea of so perilous a contest, declared that he, with others, had lent and would lend no countenance to the affair, asserting his belief that it was not a proper test of a motorboat, no matter how strongly built, to subject it to the strain of passing through "the wildest stretch of water on earth."

While this opinion is sustained by many authorities on motorboats and their capacity, the promoters of the contest, among whom is the proprietor of a motorboating magazine of Cleveland, O., assert their belief that the passage of the whirlpool rapids will give an incomparable opportunity of demonstrating that power boats are not merely toys and pleasure craft designed for calm waters, but vessels capable of the roughest service.

WILLIAM HENDERSON.

Loeb, Who May Run For Governor of New York

LET'S begin this story just as though you and I were sitting down to a nice, quiet, two person, comfy conversation. Let's begin it with an "if." Now, then—if the Republicans of New York state get together and stow away their differences in one corner of the big capitol in Albany, and if the Democrats let them elect a governor of the state this fall, who will be the man, do you think, who will present his certificate of election in the assembly chamber of the capitol on Jan. 1 next?

Well, it may be Congressman Parsons, or it may be Speaker Wadsworth, or it may be one of half a dozen others. Never mind the "maybes," did you say—you want to know who it will be? I can't tell you; really I can't. But I can risk a guess, and the guess is that it will be no other than our old and familiar friend, William Loeb, Jr. Others have guessed the same. Among the others is President Taft.

Speaking right out loud in public, Loeb has said that he does not care about going back to Albany, where he started his public career. He does not say that too many people in his birthplace know him, and that is not the reason for his indifference. The real reason is that he likes his present place of power as collector of the port of New York, one of the biggest offices in the federal service, and wants to remain there until he puts into effect all of the reform plans that are causing such anguish to the New York politicians who see in the country's biggest custom house an annex to their own offices and clubs. Loeb says that Loeb as collector will suit him for awhile. After he has wrought his will in the big gray building near Dowling Green perhaps he will listen to the singing of the political siren.

Perhaps it is as well for Loeb that he never has run for public office in the twenty-three years that have elapsed since he reached voting age. Not that we would intimate that he would have met with defeat—far from it. The chances are that he would have made defeat had it come his way, the stepping stone for higher things, for that is the kind of a man Loeb is. What we are trying to say is that Loeb's honors and fame have come to him more directly than through the courting of public favor. He has had the good fortune to be associated with the great and to have impressed himself on them.

The official biography of Mr. Loeb as contributed, possibly by himself, to the congressional directory a few years ago, when he was secretary to President Roosevelt, reads:

"William Loeb, Jr., of Albany, N. Y., was born in the city of Albany, N. Y., Oct. 9, 1866; had common and high school education; in 1888 was stenographer of the New York state assembly; afterward was law and general reporter and acted as private secretary to various public officials, among them the president pro tempore of the New York state senate, speaker of the assembly and lieutenant governor; in 1894, member of the stenographic corps of the New York state constitutional convention; in 1896, grand jury and district attorney's stenographer of Albany county; Jan. 1, 1899, stenographer and private secretary to the governor of New York; March 4, 1901, appointed secretary to the vice president of the United States; Sept. 26, 1901, appointed assistant secretary to the president; Feb. 18, 1902, appointed secretary to the president.

The governor of New York, vice president and president just referred to is Theodore Roosevelt. It is not necessary to lay stress on the fact that Mr. Loeb occupies a high place on the list of Mr. Roosevelt's political and personal friends. This feeling is one of the things President Taft inherited from his predecessor. Others of Mr. Roosevelt's intimates figure no longer on the list of federal officeholders, but there was never the slightest danger that Mr. Loeb would have to seek a job as long as Mr. Taft had the appointing power. It was currently reported, and it is generally believed, that Loeb could have entered the new cabinet in March, 1909, but he preferred the post of collector of New York, which pays a salary of $12,000 a year and is considered one of the most powerful positions in the federal service. Since his assumption of the office he has remained constantly in the public eye by reason of the vigor with which he has carried on its administration. In his methods as collector there is none of the "pussy footling" that marks the conduct of so many private secretaries.

But, then, Loeb never was one of the meek kind. He is a really big man, with an immense capacity for work and executive ability that has lost nothing of its original force in his contact with men who have held big offices. He writes with a broad, able grasp of affairs an ability to assimilate details that is little short of marvellous. If the Empire State elects him it will have as governor a man who knows the ins and outs of office-holding and who will be as much his own boss as Governor Hughes has been.

"Will has the levellest head of almost any man I ever knew," said President Taft recently.

Board of Trade Numbers 800 Members

The membership committee of the board of trade met yesterday at the Park hotel and added 16 names to the new membership list, bringing the total membership up to 800.

The committee decided to suspend the weekly meetings until September. The committee desired to impress the fact upon business and professional men who are not members that it is not necessary for them to wait for an invitation to join. They need simply send or telephone their names to the secretary. The new members received yesterday were:

Charles A. Delaronde, 144 Merrimack street; Charles A. Patterson, Worcester, Mass.; Robert H. Harkins, 912 Gorham street; Jeremiah P. Connors, 253 Concord street; John W. Whitely, Supt. Kitchin Machine Co.; Charles E. Frederic, Wyman's Exchange; A. J. LeMaitre & Co., 487 Middlesex street; Arthur Brunel, 16 Aiken avenue; J. J. Allard, 114-116 Daniel street; W. H. Papin, 540 Merrimack street; Harry Houpis, Market street; Martin H. Conley, Supt. City Farm; W. H. Potter, 10 Central street; C. A. Dourides, 213 Merrimack street; Olin W. Buder, 110 Methuen street; John W. Scott, dealer of weights and measures.

The directors of the board met yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock and voted to engage new quarters in the Central block.

The rooms to be occupied by the first of September by the board are two large affairs, one of which will be used as a general assembly room and library for the members, the other for the private office of the secretary.

The directors also voted to membership the 16 candidates acted upon by the membership committee at its meeting yesterday afternoon. Two others, Mr. McCarty and Walter Perham, not considered by the membership committee, were also voted in.

COUNTY PRESIDENT

ATTENDED THE MEETING OF DIV. 11, A. O. H.

A well attended meeting of Division 11, A. O. H., was held Tuesday night in Hibernian hall, President Patrick Connolly in the chair. Ten new members were initiated and 25 applications were favorably acted upon.

County President John J. Donnelly was present and spoke very enthusiastically on the coming parade. Marshal John T. Hendricks reported that he had appointed his aids and urged the members to do everything in their power in order to make a good showing.

The president announced that the Leather Workers' hall has been secured for the division for the day of the parade. The division will meet there before forming in line. A committee was appointed to secure refreshments for the members of the division after the parade.

A special meeting of the division will be held at Hibernian hall on Sunday morning, August 14, at 10:30 a. m., when a large class initiation will be held, and the final instructions for the parade discussed.

LAWYER SCHARTON

MAKES ATTACK ON THE "WHITE SLAVE" LAW

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—W. R. Scharton, counsel for Max Peretz, raised a novel question yesterday as to the constitutionality of the "white slave" law, in a motion to quash the indictment in the second case against his client.

Peretz is indicted in three cases, the first of which was returned by the July grand jury charging him with procuring support and maintenance through the immoral practices of Frieda Peretz. In the second, returned in August, he is charged with procuring support and maintenance through the immoral acts of Frieda Peretz. In the third, also returned in August, he is charged with making an attempt to induce Julia Adams to lead an immoral life outside the state.

Scharton argues, among other things, that under this law no person, regardless of his vocation, can accept money from an immoral person, knowing her to be such, and that a law which would make a physician, a lawyer, or any other man liable, if he accepted money from a person known to be immoral, is unconstitutional.

He also contended that the indictment covered a period of time when no such offense was set out was known to the law of this state, as this law did not go into effect until May 22, 1910.

OLD LANDMARK

Stage Coach Tavern at Pelham Burned

The old stage coach tavern stood at North Pelham, which for over 100 years stood guard on the Mammoth road running between this city and Concord, N. H., and passing through the east part of Manchester, was burned just before midnight Tuesday night.

The present owner of the place, Chas. D. Stevenson, is night foreman at the Pelham car barns, and Tuesday Mrs. Stevenson drove to this city, leaving a lamp burning in the house to make tramps think the folks were at home.

She returned late, and just before reaching the house flames burst out of the room where the lamp was. She telephoned to Windham and Pelham, and from the last named place two carloads of men went over and managed to save the barn. The house, which was very venerable, was valued at $2000 and insured for $2000. The place for years was used as a store by John Foster and his father before him after the stoppage of stage coaching had made the place impracticable as a hotel.

The old tavern was one of the old landmarks of Pelham, having been built about one hundred years ago. It served many years as one of the relay houses between Boston and Concord in the old stage coach times and was the scene of many a coaching party. It also had the distinction of sheltering President Andrew Jackson, over night, during his term of office in 1821, the only president known to have made an all night stay in Pelham. Much sentiment was engendered in the old building and its destruction will be a noted loss to the town and especially the north end.

THREATENED BY CRANK'S LETTER

EDWARDS ARRESTING GALLAGHER

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—"Big Bill" Edwards, street cleaning commissioner of New York city, firm friend of Mayor Gaynor and hero of the shooting affray on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, is the latest to be threatened that he will meet the same fate as the city's executive. He has received a letter to this effect. Edwards declares that he is used to having his life threatened and that the result of efforts to slay him has been in the other man finally believing he was the quo in danger.

"Big Bill" has his street cleaning force fully organized and when the winter rains and snows come will be prepared to battle with them just as effectively as he did last season.

TEMPERANCE PARADE

Great Demonstration Was Held in Boston Last Night

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Amid the plaudits of many thousands of people who braved the frequent showers and threatening weather of last evening, 7500 men, on foot, a score or more of floats bearing artistically gowned young women, and with hand and band of music, the public parade of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America was a great success last night. The parade started in the Back Bay section, traversed much of the South End and then came down town until at Adams square, at 9:45 o'clock, John T. Shea, the chief marshal, stopped in front of the reviewing stand where the paraders were dismissed.

The event was said to be the most impressive that had probably ever occurred at a Catholic Total Abstinence union convention, and national officers and delegates who had attended many such affairs in the past were most enthusiastic over the fine showing. They were deeply appreciative of the interest shown by Bostonians, who turned out in such large numbers to greet and applaud the paraders along the whole route.

The marching of the paraders could not be criticised. The military column moved through the city with the accompaniment of comments of commendation by people along the line of march and to the cadet companies from the Paulist fathers' parish in Chicago an abundance of applause was given for their very clever military tactics displayed along the line of march.

The C. T. A. U. regiment from Wilkesbarre, Pa., was not forgotten in the applause, and the excellent military bearing of the men from the Pennsylvania section was noted with much enthusiasm.

Some From Fall River

The last three divisions were made up of temperance societies from around Boston but many of these came from as far as Fall River and Holyoke. The Irish-American Total Abstinence and Goodwill society of Fall River came on an early train and under the direction of Vicar Gen. James E. Cassidy of that diocese.

The parade was somewhat late in getting started, due principally to the late arrival of some out-of-town delegations. The chief marshal, John T. Shea, and his staff were busy for an hour or more endeavoring to get the formation right and under the electric lights this was no easy matter.

Finally, at 8:15 o'clock, the word was given for the start and the head of the line moved onto Beacon street from Arlington. They proceeded along Beacon street to Charles street and the drizzling rain which had then been falling intermittently for an hour seemed to cease.

The column passed along in Charles street and here the paraders were taxed to keep their footing. The road-bed along Charles street between the common and public garden had been torn up for the past several days and there was an abundance of mud.

The paraders found that stretch of travel perhaps the worst in the whole line, for once they swung into the Park square the footing was far better and alignment was kept without any repetition. In Park square a great crowd had gathered as was also the case along Charles street, and the applause for the marchers began from the time the start had been made.

Bothered by Slippery Pavement

From Park square the column passed along along Columbus avenue and until Berkeley street was reached the paraders had the cobblestones to walk upon. While these were slippery, they were not to be compared with the stretch of asphalt which continued on the avenue until Concord square was reached.

Because of the drizzling rain great numbers of people hid to the windows of their homes along Columbus avenue and from the hundreds of high stoops numberless people looked out on the paraders.

The column turned into Concord square and passed along to Concord street until Harrison avenue was reached. They turned down Harrison avenue in order to pass the church of the Immaculate Conception and the rectory of the Jesuit fathers of Boston college. At this corner, as well as along Harrison street until East Newton street was reached, there were masses of spectators.

The column passed out East Newton street, passing the Franklin square house, the windows of which were filled with young women, and proceeded to Washington street. Down Washington street the procession wound its way, maintaining a steady stride, until Dedham street was reached. Here began one of the largest crowds that had assembled to witness the procession.

Reviewed by the Archbishop

The police had roped off Washington street from First to Dedham and along Union Park street was passed, so that the whole frontage of the cathedral was clear from the steps of which Archbishop O'Connell with a party of clergymen reviewed the parade.

Gathered with the archbishop were Mgr. M. J. Spillane, Revs. J. J. Crane, J. J. Redican, William B. Finnigan, James A. Walsh of the cathedral staff, Rev. Dr. John T. Mulvey of Hudson, Rev. James J. McCarthy of St. Williams parish, Dorchester, and Rev. John Timony, O. P. of Washington.

The archbishop was pleased with the fine appearance of the paraders and was continuously bowing acknowledgment of the salutes by the passing companies.

The procession then continued straight along Washington street to Adams square. Here the reviewing stand for the national officers and visiting delegates had been stationed and it was an enthusiastic place. The procession reached the finishing point at 9:45 o'clock, and it was nearly 10:30 when the last detachment passed in review. The column was about three-quarters of an hour passing a given point.

Organizations With Floats

Among the organizations with floats in the parade were those of the cathedral of the Holy Cross parish, Immaculate Conception, St. Matthew societies of Lynn and Amesbury, St. Catherine's, Norwood and many others.

The many automobile floats were skidding at some points, due to the rain, especially along Columbus avenue and on the thoroughfares where the asphalt and wood block paving was encountered.

The floats were laden down with young women and were very hard for the chauffeurs to control. The floats were taxed to their fullest capacity, and though they proceeded at a moderate speed keeping time with the paraders, it was with the greatest precaution that the chauffeurs were enabled to keep their machine straight ahead and avoid going into curbsides.

The varied costumes of the young women on the floats was a feature of the parade. For the most part they were gowned in white, wearing large picture hats trimmed with fluffy plumes of green, blue and other colors. Flags and pennants were placed here and there about the machines and each one of the young women on all of the floats carried a pennant.

They were enthusiastic "joy riders" and in response to the applause rendered them at the various points as they passed along the young women waved their pennants.

The young women from St. Catherine's parish of Norwood had a long wait for their car. By some misunderstanding they had assembled at the corner of Marlboro and Arlington streets and between 7 and 8 o'clock, while the rain was falling, they had the unpleasantness of remaining there awaiting the belated sightseeing auto that was to serve as their float.

Finally the auto which had been awaiting at another point came into sight and the 35 or 40 young women were taken aboard and put in their place in the line.

Cadets Were Skittful

The various uniforms of the cadets that came from different parishes both in and out of town were very attractive and the little fellows showed their knowledge of military affairs time and again by demonstrating their skill.

Interruptions were made with paddles and the lads took the greatest pleasure in whining applause for these evolutions as they moved over the route of the parade. It might be said that the little fellows were much more at home on the slippery pavement than their elders.

As each detachment reached Adams square it continued on down Washington street, turning into some of the side streets and returning to the assembly points. Those from Fall River and the other places in that direction went to the South station, where the majority boarded late trains for their homes. The details from Lynn, Salem and other points to the east or Boston kept on to the North station.

Gathered on the reviewing stand at Adams square were a large number of the visiting priests as well as other delegates and it was the unanimous opinion of all that the Boston parade excelled in every way the parades ever held before while conventions were on.

Bishop Canevin of Pittsburg, who sat with Pres. O'Callaghan, was delighted with the parade and took deep interest in the uniformed regiment that came from his own state.

GIVEN TWO YEARS

Man Guilty of Assaulting an Officer

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Charged with assault on Policeman Katon of division 13 on June 23, John J. Dolan of Jamaica Plain was sentenced to the house of correction yesterday for two years by Judge Sanderson in the superior criminal court. Dolan, with Andrew McCarron, James F. Galvin and Edward Moore, pleaded guilty. McCarron, Galvin and Moore were placed on probation.

Dolan has recovered from a shot through the lung received at the time of the assault. Early in the evening of June 23 several women told Policeman Katon that a man had insulted them. Katon arrested a man named Gorman and as he was taking Gorman to the box at Williams and Washington streets in Jamaica Plain, Dolan ordered him to release Gorman. Upon Katon's refusal there was some talk, when the policeman hid Dolan with his club. Dolan then got the club and struck Katon on the head with it.

The policeman said that at the same time someone was trying to get his revolver. He reached it first, however, and as Dolan stood before him with the club raised and ready to strike he pulled the trigger. The revolver did not go off, but on the second trial he sent a bullet through Dolan's body. Dolan said he was shot as he was running away.

THE O.M.I. CADETS

Tents Will Be Pitched at Camp Ground Next Monday

The O. M. I. Cadets will go to camp next Tuesday and will spend three days in the open. Tents will be pitched in Sullivan's grove next Monday by a squad from the Cadets, and all preparations will be made for the feeding and housing of the Cadets during the three days' stay at the camp ground. The supervision of the camp will be under Lieut. McArdle, the military instructor of the Cadets, and the chaplain, Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., will conduct the religious services. Matthew McCann, the well known police officer, will spend the time at the camp and will look after the athletic work of the young soldiers; and those who know "Mat" repose the greatest confidence in him. He will conduct all the games the boys engage in, and will give them valuable advice as to the method of training. Lieut. McArdle will see that the boys are properly drilled and that they adhere strictly to the rules of discipline that will be established at the camp. The hardest work for the Cadets will come in the morning when they will be engaged in drilling. In the afternoon there will be athletic sports and baseball games. Manager Gray and the members of the Lowell baseball association have agreed to furnish baseball supplies to the boys for the three days and other favors are being extended by friends.

The affair will be the greatest in the history of the Cadets and when the friends and parents of the young people visit camp next week they will be surprised at the scene they will witness. The location of the camp is most desirable. Every accommodation is provided and the sanitary conditions cannot be surpassed. Tomorrow night another meeting of the Cadets, past and present members will be held and the final orders for the encampment will be issued. It's going to be a big thing and it will afford the Cadets a chance to have great practice before their appearance in the A. O. H. parade the following week.

Rev. Fr. Sullivan has extended an invitation to Humphrey O'Sullivan, chief marshal of the A. O. H. parade to visit the camp and Mr. O'Sullivan has promised to do so. If he possibly can, he says that he will call on them and speak a few words to them. He can, he says that he will spend a night in camp. At any rate he says that he will call on them and speak a few words to them.

MAYOR GAYNOR

Shows Great Strength and Physicians are Hopeful

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—All reports this morning from the bedside of Mayor William J. Gaynor were of an encouraging nature and the indications were that the distinguished patient in St. Mary's hospital in Hoboken suffering from a bullet wound inflicted by a would-be assassin was well fortified for what might prove to be a crucial day. At 7 o'clock this morning the following official bulletin was issued:

"Mayor Gaynor spent a comfortable night. Temperature 100 1-5; pulse 76; respiration 17."

Mayor Gaynor's wound was dressed at 3 o'clock this morning and then the following bulletin was issued:

"The wound has been dressed and looks well. He converses cheerfully and the situation is encouraging."

Perhaps the chief fear of Mayor Gaynor's medical attendants has been that septicemia will develop. The end of the two day period commonly allowed for the appearance of such infection comes today and if the mayor passes the day without development of unfavorable symptoms it is known that the physicians feel that they may reasonably regard the danger of blood poisoning as practically over.

Near the mayor's bedside through the night were Mrs. Gaynor, his son Rufus and his daughter, Mrs. Vignut, and Mr. Adamson. Dr. Stewart was the physician who kept the night vigil. The patient was very comfortable in the large secluded room in the rear of the hospital to which he was removed yesterday. Mayor Gaynor had the luxury of a breakfast this morning. It consisted of broth and coffee with the addition of an egg, the first substantial food that has been allowed the mayor since his injury. The patient seemed to relish the nourishment, and to Secretary Adamson, who visited him shortly before 9 o'clock, he said he was feeling fine. Secretary Adamson said that the mayor's temperature was lower than yesterday. "I think it is the lowest yet," he added. The mayor wanted his secretary to go over to the city hall and look after the affairs of the office. "There must be some work to do there," the executive said.

The two sections of the bullet fired by James J. Gallagher, the discharged dock employee, which laid Mayor Gaynor low on the deck of the steamer as he was about to sail for Europe Tuesday, still remain embedded in the mayor's neck and throat. The possibility is that one of these fragments lies

City Gov't. Committee Went to Brookline

TO GET A FEW POINTERS ON SWIMMING POOLS

Lowell Will Have Shelter Houses on Both Commons—City Engineer Bowers Explains About Employment of Help on Grade Crossing Work—City Treasury Will Receive a Slam Tomorrow

The committee on public convenience stations, Aldermen Adams and Byam, Councilmen Chapman (chairman), Morin and Gargan, went to Brookline today to look over the swimming pools connected with the shelter houses at that place. The erection of shelter houses on the North and South commons is among the things contemplated for Lowell and while the shelter houses in Lowell will not be nearly so elaborate as those in Brookline, the committee will be able to get a few pointers that will stand them in good stead. The swimming pool is the very important part of the shelter house. The pool is covered over in winter and used as a skating rink.

City Doesn't Hire Them

With reference to the grade crossing work in Plain and Lincoln streets, City Engineer Bowers, this forenoon, took occasion to remark that a great many people seemed to be laboring under a misapprehension relative to the employment of help for the grade crossing work. "I am getting the dickens because local labor is not employed on the grade crossing work," said Mr. Bowers, "and I would like to set the public straight in this matter. I haven't anything to do with the employment of help on these jobs, neither has the mayor nor anybody else connected with the city. The laborers and others engaged at that work are hired by the contractors and the railroad let the contracts. The court appointed a commission and the commission ordered the railroad to go ahead and do the work. The city, of course, will have to stand its share of the expense but it hasn't anything to do with the employment of help. The railroad let the contracts and the contractors who get the different jobs hire their own men. Most of the contractors have what they call their steady men who work with them the year around going all over the country from job to job. What I want to emphasize, however, is that I have nothing to do and the city has nothing to do with the employment of help on the grade crossing jobs."

Mr. Bowers states that the grade crossing work is going along swimmingly. It will be necessary to keep Lincoln street closed until the bridge has been built across Plain street and that will be soon, as everything is in readiness for the steel, for which the contractors are waiting.

O You Bundle!

The sum of $99,157.66 will be paid out at the office of the city treasurer tomorrow and includes the monthly bill draft and weekly pay roll. The monthly bill draft amounts to $63,072.30 and the pay roll to $18,085.36. Nice vacation money—eh?

CLUE DISCOVERED

To Identity of Body of Victim in Crippen Case

LONDON, Aug. 11.—It is reported today that the authorities have discovered a clue to the certain identity of the body unearthed in the Hilldrop Crescent home of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen now under arrest in Quebec awaiting extradition on the charge of having murdered an unnamed woman. The police have contended all along that the bits of flesh found were parts of the body of Belle Elmore, the actress, wife of Dr. Crippen, but their identification as such has been a matter of much doubt. It is generally believed that the case of the crown rests on a positive identification and the greatest importance is attached to the latest development. The hopeful clue was obtained during an exhaustive examination of the body made by Prof. Pepper, the home office expert who had previously given many hours to the problem.

During the five hours that he worked Prof. Pepper obtained conclusive evidence that the sex was feminine. He then continued with the purpose of determining the manner of death, having in mind the possibility that poison was used. The analysis, so far as the completed today but it was reported that the physician found evidence that at some period the woman had undergone a surgical operation. If this can be established the authorities claim that they will have gone a long way in proving that the victim was Belle Elmore. The inquest will be resumed on Monday and as that day approaches interest in the case is revived. It is doubtful, however, if anything beyond the scientific evidence is brought to light before the return here of Dr. Crippen and Ethel Clara Lence who is jointly charged with him with guilty knowledge of the woman's death.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 11.—Much concern is being felt throughout the state on account of the steady increase of infantile paralysis. Up to about a week ago the dread disease was practically unknown in Rhode Island, but since that time new cases have been reported nearly every day. Yesterday two more children were afflicted with the strange malady and today another was stricken. The case reported today is the eight-year-old daughter of Supt. William Stoppard of the Warwick waist mill at Coventry. Her body is devoid of feeling from the waist down.

FAMOUS PASTOR THE JOYETTE

Is Now Working for $40 a Month

Won in the Second Division Today

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The Rev. Ingram N. W. Irvine, who once defied Bishop Ethelbert Talbot of the Episcopal diocese of central Pennsylvania, when that prelate ordered him to administer the rites of communion to a rich woman of his congregation at Huntington, Pa., who had been divorced three times, is now working for about $40 a month.

Dr. Irvine was yesterday examined in supplementary proceedings in connection with a judgment for $135, issued against him and in favor of J. B. Mugford of 507 West street. The debt was contracted three years ago while Mr. Mugford, who was then a captain in the Salvation Army, had charge of the Salvation Army hotel in Chatham square.

"Dr. Irvine came to me," Mr. Mugford said, "and asked me to loan him $100 in order to bring his wife to this city. I took his note for six months, but have not yet been able to get the money."

The examination yesterday failed to reveal assets of the debtor. Dr. Irvine is now living at 241 West 19th street. He is connected with St. Nicholas cathedral, in East 97th street. It was with this Russian Orthodox church that Dr. Irvine became affiliated after his losing controversy with Bishop Talbot.

The struggle was one of the most bitter and memorable in ecclesiastical history in this country. Dr. Irvine had, as one of his parishioners at Huntington, Pa., a rich woman, Mrs. Emma Elliott, a friend of Bishop Talbot. When Dr. Irvine learned that she had been divorced three times he declined to permit her to receive the sacrament of holy communion at his hands.

Mrs. Elliott carried her protest to Bishop Talbot and he ordered Rector Irvine to apologize and give Mrs. Elliott spiritual aid. As the rector considered the teachings of the Episcopal church contrary to the orders of the bishop he refused to obey. He was finally driven from his pulpit and came to New York to continue his ministerial work with the Russian church.

PRIVATE MCCARTHY

Lowell Boy Captures the $500 Trophy

CAMP PERRY, O., Aug. 11.—The $500 adjutant general's cup, hung up by the Ohio state rifle association for the best 1000-yard marksmanship in 20 shots, is coming to Boston. Private William H. McCarthy, of Lowell, a member of Co. C, 2d corps cadets, will bring it. He defeated 157 competitors yesterday by a score of 97 out of the possible 100.

By hitting the bullseye on his 20th shot Private McCarthy captured the handsome cup, which Sergt. J. W. Hiegle of the U. S. marine corps won last year, when it was first shot for Private George W. Chesley of the 2d Connecticut had scored 97 with a 4 for his final shot.

McCarthy and Chesley, it so happened, shot on the same target, and McCarthy's finish was the sensational event of the tournament so far. Private Chesley was on the Massachusetts team for seven years preceding 1905, when the rules eliminated him.

Private McCarthy gets not only the massive $500 cup, but also $25 and a gold medal. For seven years he shot on the 9th Massachusetts team. This is his first year in the state's delegation to the national shoot.

Among the Massachusetts scores in the adjutant general's match, which event the Bay states went into chiefly for practice for the national events, were Col. Upton 91, Lieut. Parker 90, Sergt. Daniels 90, Private Burnham 90, Qm. Sergt. Keough 89.

The 12 prize-winners ranked as follows:

Private W. H. McCarthy, Mass.	97
Private G. W. Chesley, Conn.	97
Capt. E. W. Eddy, Ohio	96
Lieut. C. C. B. Winder, Ohio	95
Lieut. Glenn Vanaunder, Ind.	95
Sergt. F. Wahlstrom, U. S. M. C.	94
Capt. W. H. Richards, Ohio	94
Maj. C. C. Townsend, Colo.	94
Sergt. Victor Czegka, U. S. M. C.	94
H. E. Simon, Ohio	94
Arthur Cook Smith, Colo.	93
Stewart, U. S. navy	93

The Dupont two year match at 800 yards was won by Sergt. J. Grebenze of the 4th U. S. cavalry, who scored 29 bulls.

Corp. T. Worden, U. S. marine corps, got second honors with 15 bulls; Sergt. L. Garrett, Indiana, third with 13 and Sergt. L. Corley, marine corps, fourth with 12.

THE MATHEWS BACK FROM COAST

John T. Campbell meets Old Friends

Despite the threatening clouds that hung over the city, several hundred members of the Mathew Temperance Institute journeyed to Boston last night and participated in the Catholic Total Abstinence Union parade. The trip to the Hub was made by special train which left Middlesex street station about 8:30 o'clock. Accompanying the members were a large number of friends.

Upon arriving at the coast John was in pretty poor condition and remained for some time at the comfortable home of his brother where he soon began to pick up and in a short time was able to obtain employment. Having always been of an industrious nature he soon made good and in a short time he was able to send for his family who went west to find a cosy home awaiting them.

While in Lowell before his illness made him give up his work Mr. Campbell was employed with the C. H. Joyce company and is now connected with the "Budweiser" saloon of Los Angeles, one of the largest establishments of its kind in Los Angeles. Mr. Campbell will remain two weeks in Lowell and will then return to the west to resume his managerial duties. Speaking of Los Angeles Mr. Campbell waxed eloquent. He states that it is the most delightful place as to climate in the country. July and August are the two quiet months of the year while during the other ten the city and vicinity are crowded with tourists and health-seekers. Business is booming there all the year round and everyone finds steady employment. Mr. Campbell states that Billy Donohue of Centralville is prospering in the theatrical business. Peter Kelly runs the leading show business of the city while a Mr. Dickson, a retired merchant, is enjoying life and talking about old times in Lowell.

James F. Bourke, Marshal

Friends. The Lowell men were headed by the Lowell Cadet band. The return by special, was made at 11:30 o'clock, the train pulling into the station soon after 12 o'clock. James F. Bourke was marshal of the Lowell delegation, and at the head of the line was President James J. Gallagher and Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph. D., pastor of St. Peter's church. At the convention the M. T. ## THE CHARLTON CASE

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—A move was made today in behalf of the Italian government in the case of Porter Charlton, who confessed to having murdered his wife at Lake Como, Italy, and is being held in Jersey City awaiting extradition proceedings. The hearing set for today went over by agreement until Sept. 20 after Gustave Di Rosa, the Italian vice consul in New York, appeared before Supreme Court Justice Blair in Jersey City and filed with the justice the dossier in Charlton's case. This dossier contains a record of all the evidence as gathered by the Italian government and is written in Italian. Judge Blair ordered a transcript of the record to be made for the use of the court some time before the date set for Charlton's examination.

The New Jersey authorities have not been informed of any action by the state department in Charlton's case, it being understood that no formal demand for the young prisoner's extradition has yet been made to the Italian government.

6 O'CLOCK NON-SUPPORT CASE Was Aired in the Police Court Today

Dennis A. Pendergast entered a plea of not guilty in police court today to a complaint charging him with failure to provide for his wife, Etta. Mrs. Pendergast had a little baby on her arm while she was testifying and informed the court that she had three children and had to go out doing washing in order to procure food for them. She said that her husband was of no use to her and that this was the sixth time that she had him before the court for non-support. Pendergast left this city a few days after the fourth and did not put in an appearance until last Tuesday, when he was arrested on a warrant. Pendergast was sentenced to three months in jail.

The case of Lorenzo and Lucien Daigle, charged with doing plumbing without a license, was continued (till Aug. 15th by agreement of counsel in the case.

Raising a Disturbance

Mary Cavanaugh got crazy drunk in her house in North street last night, and before the police arrived on the scene she had smashed about every piece of furniture and china in the kitchen. Patrolman John W. Swanwick was attracted to the house by a crowd of about 50 or 60 people standing in the street in front of the house and when he entered the kitchen he found that the table had been overturned and every dish which had been on it smashed to pieces on the floor. The chairs were overturned and broken and the place looked as if it had been trampled by a bull.

In police court this morning Mary said that she did not have anything to drink yesterday but that she did the day before. The officer testified otherwise, however.

It was explained to the court that her husband is a worthless fellow who abuses and beats her and while in these despondent moods she resorts to drink and the liquor gets the better of her.

The court thinking that there was a chance for the woman to reform placed her in the custody of the probation officer.

Drunken Offenders

Thomas F. Monahan who has appeared in police court on several previous occasions was in the dock this morning and was sentenced to the state farm. William L. Ferris and Charles F. Howard were fined $5 each and two first offenders were taxed $2 each.

BROTHER KILLED COL. ROOSEVELT He Was Struck by Lightning Takes Trip to Investigate Model Farms

TUCSON, Ariz., Aug. 11.—After driving with one hand a team of bronchos for forty miles on a stormy night, Alfred Villa delivered the body of his dead brother to his parents near this city last night. While driving through the storm the backboard in which the two boys were riding was struck by lightning, killing the younger boy, instantly and paralyzing the older one. The elder brother, conscious of his condition, begged the team for home, driving with his unaided hand. Several other persons were stunned during the same storm.

REVOKES CHARTER OF BROCKTON SHOE WORKERS

BROCKTON, Aug. 11.—Pres. John P. Tobin of the Boot and Shoe Workers union yesterday revoked the charter of the local shoemakers' union, which numbers some 3500 members, and is the largest union associated with the national body.

Notice of the action of President Tobin was brought to Brockton yesterday by General Organizer Charles J. McMorro, who instructed the local officers to turn their books and other records over to the general headquarters in Boston. Later Robert B. Upton, a special agent, carried the charter and books to Boston.

The revoking of the charter was the result of the suspension by the local union of business agent Frederick B. Studdley because of dissatisfaction with the terms of a decision made by the state board of arbitration in a disagreement with the W. L. Douglas Co. President Tobin ordered the man reinstated and when the union failed to straighten the matter out revoked the charter.

Unless some other arrangement is made, members in order to retain their union working cards will have to become members-at-large, affiliating themselves with the general body and losing their local independence.

SCOTTISH GAMES

MINEOLA, L. I., Aug. 11.—Theodore Roosevelt arrived unannounced in Mineola this morning by automobile and took a special train with Ralph Peters, president of the Long Island railroad, to some point east of here on the Hempstead branch. His destination was not disclosed as he is making a secret trip of investigation.

Col. Roosevelt would merely say that he intended to inspect a number of Long Island farms to learn what the farmers are doing. He made plans for the trip some time ago, but kept them secret because he said that if he announced it a crowd of sightseers might hamper him in his work. He wishes to get in personal touch with the farmers as he did with the miners on his trip to Pennsylvania mining towns last week.

It was understood most of the day would be devoted to an inspection to so-called "model farms" along the railroad. Gifford Pinchot of New York, former chief forester, and Jas. R. Garfield of Cleveland, ex-secretary of the interior, who spent the night at Sagamore Hill, left this morning for New York.

BROTHERS MEET A MILITARY BALL After an Absence of 60 Years To be a Feature of the C. T. A. U. Convention

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 11.—Two brothers, Rev. Edgar L. Clark of Providence and Edwin Clark of Butte, county, Cal., were reunited at Martha's Vineyard yesterday through a newspaper advertisement after they had been separated more than 60 years.

Edwin Clark was one of the forty-niners who flocked to California at the time of the great gold discoveries. He has been engaged in mining practically all the time since he set out from his New England home at the age of 21 to seek fortune in the far west.

During those years he made many attempts to communicate with his relatives in the east, but the letters he sent invariably came back undelivered. His family had left Connecticut and he had no means of locating any of his brothers or sisters.

After many futile attempts, he resorted to a newspaper advertisement, which was seen by an old friend of the family in Hartford. He wrote to "Dr. Clark at Providence, and a letter was sent to Edwin Clark in California.

As a result of the correspondence the California man came east to see his brother once more, and made the trip successfully, despite the fact that he is more than 81 years old.

The meeting was affecting. The brothers wept with joy as they clasped each other in their arms. The whole summer colony had been apprised of the reunion and the neighborhood of Dr. Clark's home was decorated in honor of the occasion. Many friends of Dr. Clark gathered to meet his brother, who came from Providence, accompanied by his nephews, Dr. Edwin Clark of Taunton, Dr. Fred L. Clark of New Bedford and Dr. Sylvester Clark of Providence.

The two brothers are the only survivors of 11 children.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Although the national treasurer, would be nominated for president. There were interesting contests for the other offices.

The second day's session of the great temperance convention today was preceded by a solemn pontifical high mass in the cathedral of the Holy Cross. This mass was for the repose of the souls of the deceased members of the union.

A military ball will be given tonight in Mechanics building.

ONE MAN DEAD Two Injured in a Gun Fight in Hartford, Conn.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 11.—One man dead and two injured, one fatally, is the result of a gun fight here today, among Italian occupants of a shanty at the north part of the city. The dead man is only known to the police as Pedro. He was 32 years old and was instantly killed by John Baptista, making so much noise upon his entry a second after he had sent a bullet into the shanty and the response was a man. The men were armed with revolvers. While Pedro and Baptista's pistols, are said to have been brought were exchanging shots John Pannello, into play.

A peacemaker, got three bullets in his body. He is in a precarious condition. Baptista will recover. He will be arraigned on a charge of murder although the evidence so far obtained by the police shows that he fired in self defense. He warned Pedro about making so much noise upon his entry a second after he had sent a bullet into the shanty and the response was a man. The men were armed with revolvers. While Pedro and Baptista's pistols, are said to have been brought were exchanging shots John Pannello, into play.

BOUT CALLED OFF EXCITING CHASE Langford Wanted Guarantee of $7500 Resulted in Capture of Williams

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—A disagreement over the division of receipts resulted at noon today in calling off the six round bout between Sam Langford and Al Kaufman which was scheduled for tonight on the grounds of the Philadelphia National league baseball club. Langford, who refused to fight, forfeits $250 which will be divided between Kaufman and Harry E. Edwards of this city, the promoter of the bout.

After the bout was postponed last evening on account of rain, Joe Woodman, Langford's manager, notified Edwards that Langford would not fight Kaufman tonight but was willing to sign again for a bout next Wednesday night. The reason given was that Langford would not be in the best condition after a layoff of 24 hours and that his reputation was too valuable to risk that way. The negro's manager later asked a guarantee of $7500. The men were to take a percentage.

Edwards said: "There is only one thing to it. Langford has deliberately crawled out of the match."

VATICAN RECEIVES REPORT

ROME, Aug. 11.—The Vatican is receiving reports from Monsignor Vico, papal nuncio at Madrid and the Spanish cardinals and bishops were forwarded after they had received Cardinal Merry del Val's instructions to abandon the demonstration at San Sebastian planned for last Sunday.

According to these reports, the Catholic organization in the Peninsula is perfecting making it impossible for Premier Canalejas to repeat there what the French ministry did in France to bring about the separation of church and state.

Some of these reports state that only a word from Rome would be necessary to have the whole population rise and wipe away all of the enemies of the church and religion.

On the other hand the Cardinals declare that they are ready to intervene with a certainty of carrying the day if Rome will order the clergy and Catholics generally to support them.

The Italy Sec. is said, in most reluctant to take any such step as is suggested, as it does not wish to bring on a civil war which it believes would not benefit the church.

BUTTER BLENDERS

Internal Revenue Places Ban on Them

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Commissioner Cabell, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, is after persons using butter mergers or blenders to increase the country's butter supply. He is sending to collectors and other internal revenue agents circulars branding as adulterated butter, within the law, products of the machines.

The decision is that the use of so-called butter mergers and blenders for emulsifying certain quantities of milk and butter subject the product to a tax of 10 cents per pound as adulterated butter and the manufacturer or manipulator to a special tax of $500 per annum, if such goods are sold. If oils are used in this process the product is oleomargarine and subject to all the provisions of that law.

There is a technical point of interest as to whether butter used by restaurant or hotel guests is "sold" to them. No test case has been made but it is admitted privately that patrons may not be buying the product when they get it as part of the bill of fare. Where extra butter is charged for, though, there is a "sale," according to the law.

Between the butter merging machines and oleomargarines, restaurants and hotels are having a fine time helping to throttle the butter trust.

The farmer can sell his mixture of milk and butter without violating the law, but the dealer he sells it to cannot dispose of it without paying license and being liable.

The merger machines, it is claimed, make two pounds of butter from one pound of butter and one pint of milk.

ROBT. T. PAINE VERY WEAK

WALTHAM, Aug. 11.—The death of Robert Treat Paine, philanthropist and lawyer, is a question of hours, according to his physician. Mr. Paine has been semi-conscious since the stroke of paralysis a week ago which interrupted his recovery from the stroke of several months ago. He is one of the few great grandsons of a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

WOMEN TAKE PART In the Sonder Yacht Races Off Marblehead

MARBLEHEAD, Aug. 11.—A thick northeast rainstorm was rolling into Massachusetts bay when the Sonder yachtsmen prepared today for the last races of all thirteen boats in the elimination contest. Tonight the committee will give seven of the yachts commission to remain at anchor tomorrow and will ask the six remaining boats to come out for a couple of races in a single division. By Saturday it is believed that a couple or more boats will be weeded out and that the American team will be definitely decided upon that night. The Sonder yachtsmen in the elimination trials are having a couple of yachswomen as rivals on two of the boats. Yesterday Miss May Loring, sister of Caleb Loring of the Wolf, had the tiller in that boat while Miss Laura Fisher of New Rochelle tended the jib sheets on the Joyeuse for Skipper Swan. This is not the first year that women have gone into the Sonder yacht game, for last year Miss Alice Sargent proved herself a good sailor and a plucky one by going into all the races in which the Samatra sailed and three of them were under particularly severe conditions that were not unlike those which prevailed early today. Miss Loring has had considerable experience in small boat racing along the North shore and handled the Wolf yesterday like a veteran. Miss Fisher, who has won a number of races in Long Island sound waters was so enthusiastically over the Sonder boat type after yesterday's contest that she announced that she would have a boat of her own next year and hoped to obtain a place on an international team provided the chance is open. It is possible that she will go into the trial races for the German-American team which are to be held the first week in September.

These German-American trial races have been set for Buzzards bay where it is expected that conditions will resemble those at Kiel. It is the plan of the international committee to try out the American boats in a long, narrow bay where the winds are strong and the waves short and steep. Members of the Beverly and Sippican clubs of the first year that women have gone into the Sonder boat racing this year with much enthusiasm but the failure of any of the Buzzards bay yachts to come round the cape for the Spanish trial races has caused considerable unfavorable comment among the Massachusetts bay yachtsmen and a number have announced that they will not enter the German trials next month.

LOSS IS $10,000 THE NEW COMET

Fire in a Factory in Somerville

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—A damage of $10,000 resulted from a fire yesterday in the four-story wooden building on Miller street, Somerville, occupied by the Roberts Manufacturing company and the Boston Coated Paper company. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is thought it was the result of spontaneous combustion.

About thirty men are employed in the building, but all were at dinner at the time of the fire. Some of the employees who were on the outside noticed flames issuing from the top story of the building, and here it was confined by the fire department.

Every bit of machinery in the building was damaged by water and some of it will be a total loss.

The Boston Coated Paper company took possession of the building only a few days ago, and they will suffer the heaviest, as their stock of paper was soaked.

A. Storck & Co. of 138 Federal street, Boston, are the owners of the building, and they also are the proprietors of the paper company.

A part of the Cambridge department, under Assistant Chief Casey, came over on the second alarm.

GIRL BOUNCES TO SAFETY

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Dorothy Allen, aged 10, of 68 East 100th street, yesterday fell from the third floor fire escape to the yard, escaping with a slight scratch on the head.

The child was playing with a companion, when she fell through the opening of the safety device. Her body struck a clothes line strung from a window of the floor below, then farther down and struck another clothes line further down, and then the fall was broken further by striking another clothes line in the yard.

Thinking the child had been killed, Mrs. Allen ran screaming to the street. Policeman Margulies called an ambulance, and Dr. Richardson of the Harlem hospital applied restoratives. The child got up and walked about as well as ever.

CLERKS STOKED A LINER

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Aug. 11.—The steamer Adriatic sailed for New York punctually at noon today, to the surprise of the striking firemen, who were confident that the company would be unable to secure stokers.

The White Star Line officials used a bit of strategy. Office clerks and other shore employees were put aboard to get up steam, after which the Adriatic quietly dropped down the Solent and picked up one hundred firemen who had been held in waiting off the Isle of Wight. The strike had completely been thus made complete, and the steamer proceeded.

A NEW INDICTMENT

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—A new indictment against Erwin Widen, a cashier in the Russian-American bank, who was charged with having stolen $6000 worth of securities from that institution, was filed with the grand jury today. His counsel said that Widen would fight to the end.

LOSS IS $8000

Fire in Saco, Me., This Morning

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 11.—Fire in the four tenement flat at 52 Middle street in Saco, owned by A. M. Goodwin, did $8000 damage this morning to house and contents. The cause is unknown. The damage to building is about $4000 by fire and water. The loss of Kenneth W. Sutherland, John G. Smith and Milton S. Atkinson, tenants, is practically total, by smoke and water. All were away on vacations. Frank E. Clark, the remaining tenant and only one at home, saved most of his furnishings in a damaged condition.

Insurance on the house is $3000. On contents Mr. Sutherland carried $200, Smith $1000, Atkinson $500, Clark $500. An explosion of hot air raised the whole front of the roof and the construction of the building hindered the firemen badly. The fire was controlled by the local department after about two and one-half hours.

TAFT PLAYS GOLF

BEVERLY, Aug. 11.—President Taft encountered today the first rainy morning of his stay in Beverly and up to 10 o'clock it seemed that he was going to miss his daily visit to the golf links. At that time, however, the downpour changed to a misty drizzle with occasional flashes of sunlight and the president, donning heavy clothes and sweater, motored over to Myopia for a round of the water-soaked links.

City Controller Wilson Elton Lower, chairman of the civil service commission, both of Chicago, again talked with the president today regarding his plans for greater economy and efficiency in the government departments at Washington. The president and Secretary Norton are gathering all possible information from city and state officials regarding the conduct of their departments.

NEW HAVEN'S POPULATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Population of New Haven, Conn., is 122,605, increase 25,578 or 21 per cent as compared with that in 1900.

CENSUS RETURNS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Census returns for New Haven, Conn., are 122,605.

SHOE MACHINERY WAR

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The merry shoe machinery war again came before the U. S. circuit court today. The United Shoe Machinery Co. filed three more bills inequity, making ten in all against the Thomas C. Plant Co. of Boston and Mr. Plant individually for the alleged infringement of a Lombard automatic lasting and Taylor heel machine patent. The suits will all be heard in September.

CARLISLE WILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The will of John G. Carlisle, former secretary of the treasury, was filed here today for probate. To his grandchildren, John H. Carlisle, Jr., and Jane C. Allen of New York city and Laura C. Plink of New Haven, Conn., is left his real and personal property to be divided share and share alike. The estate is valued at approximately $10,000.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

If conditions on Boston common are half as bad as the yellow journals claim, the wonder is that no one ever heard about these dreadful dangers until Fitz and O'Meara began to quarrel.

We no longer consider the bravery of the soldiers who have faced the guns of the enemy; indeed we have almost forgotten them in view of the latter day bravery. The brave men of our day are the congressmen who had the courage to face the Cannon's mouth.

Automobile races are very good things in their way for sport, for speed tests and for stimulating trade in automobiles, but we doubt very much if they are any indication of the excellence of a car for ordinary purposes. The car that can make a mile in the shortest time is not always the most desirable car for the man who wants to use it in a rational way.

TAFT LAYS DOWN NEW RULE

President Taft in his speech at Rockland laid down a very good rule, and one which all future presidents should follow. The president got to a point in his speech where he must either change the subject or talk politics. He hesitated long enough to say, "A president of the United States should never talk politics," and the audience cheered to the echo. When his auditors at Rockland cheered the whole country cheered. He was right. A president should not talk politics.

RUINING SMOOTH PAVED STREETS

It does seem a pity to see men tearing up our beautiful smooth pavements in the center of the city in order to put down pipes, wires and other necessary things for the adjoining buildings. Perhaps the men who take up the paving are able to set it down again in as good condition as they found it, but they don't always do it. Unless the repair work on smooth paved streets is done better in the future than it has been in the past, we will be obliged to compel the abutters to tunnel under the street as they are obliged to do in other cities instead of breaking up the paving at the surface.

THE WIRELESS AT SEA

After this year all ocean steamers carrying more than the minimum number of passengers will be compelled to equip with some form of wireless telegraphy. This is a wise provision of law, and everyone will be pleased to learn of its enactment. Passengers on ocean liners are entitled to the benefits of every safety device, just as our railway passengers are protected by the adoption of every railroad life saving invention. When all the ocean steamers are equipped with wireless telegraphy, travel by sea will be robbed of practically all its dangers.

AFRAID OF ROOSEVELT

There are wise old men in this country, who when you speak of Theodore Roosevelt shake their heads in a knowing way, and say: "Dangerous man, dangerous man, is that Roosevelt." What do they mean? Are they afraid that "Teddy" will place a crown upon his head, or that he will come down upon the people as the man on horseback. If they have any such fears they are not well founded. If Roosevelt is dangerous to the country, he is fully as dangerous to himself. When he shows any symptoms of improper ambition the country is big enough to take care of "Teddy," and many more like him. Roosevelt is more dangerous to himself than he is to anyone else, for in his love for show and public applause he may some day lose some of the discretion, which has stood by him thus far, and go beyond proper limits. When he does the American people will take the conceit out of Mr. Theodore Roosevelt in very short order. Meanwhile he is riding to a fall as a political boss, or we miss our guess.

WE CANNOT CAST THE FIRST STONE

Poor Lawrence, our sister city down the river, is in a sorry plight. Not only is she in disgrace, but she is also financially embarrassed. Her credit has gone down to so low an ebb that she has to pay a higher rate of interest for borrowed money than merchants on our streets have to pay on ordinary commercial paper.

Her former mayor is in jail; her city fathers are quarrelling; the treasury is empty, and needed improvements and repairs are likely to come to a standstill through the lack of funds. And who brought Lawrence to this state of disgrace and embarrassment? Who but the fool voters, who always take delight in voting for fool candidates and street brawling reformers.

Yet we should be the last to cast a stone at our sister city, for we have also been guilty of sin, and what is more, we sincerely believe that if the ex-payor of Lawrence should be released from jail today, and should come to the city of Lowell and talk to its citizens from the street corners, assail everything and everybody in sight, and make the most ridiculous promises, there would be hundreds, yes, thousands of thoughtless, reckless fool voters in our city who would do their utmost to put him into power at city hall. And what is most unaccountable they would do all this the more readily if they knew for a certainty that he would be likely to bring disgrace and embarrassment upon our city and give us a horrible spectacle of fool administration and public turmoil, and keep up a holy municipal show from one end of the year to the other. But fortunately for this and other cities, the number of voters who would do this sort of thing a second time is growing less and less each day and at the present time they are not numerous enough to bring any more disgrace upon cities that have been through the fire of bitter experience.

PA'S MUCH-NEEDED REST

Pa's got back from his vacation and his nose is peeling and red. And he's crosser than a demon, and our hearts are full of dread. He keeps flyin' off the handle more than forty times a day. Ma's afraid he'll start a scandal if he keeps on long this way.

When he went, he said: "I'm goin' where I'll have a chance to rest. Where there ain't no whistles blowin' and no need of keepin' dressed. I am goin' where they'll let me lie around just as I please. With no telegrams to fret me and my friends the silent trees."

"Don't you dare write letters to me. I'll not get them, if you do. There no fool friends shall pursue me, and I'll get built up anew; What I need is sleep and quiet; what I want is to lie down. Far from all the rush and riot and the roar of the town."

So he went alone, intendin' not to fret his friends. And he took no time for sendin' postal cards back home to us. He's returned from his vacation, and his nose is peeling and sore. And he's crosser than a demon and more nervous than before.

—S. E. Kiser.

Don't expect any more of your friends than you are willing to do for your friends. Even so, you are likely to be disappointed.

Possibly every man has his price, but many a man can't get it.

No doubt it is true that the world is getting better all the time, but are you doing your full share?

A woman who is paying her seven-teen-year-old servant $22 a month was asked by her husband to have the girl boil a couple of eggs for breakfast. She told the girl to put a pot of water on the fire, let it come to a boil, and when boiling to put in the eggs. In order to time the cooking of the eggs she has a three minute sand glass. The girl was told to turn it up and as soon as the sand went through to take out the eggs. She soon discovered that the girl had put the sand glass into the water and left the eggs on the wash tub. The madam asked her why she had done this, and she replied: "Why, you told me to."

"Any one who stops to consider the number of persons hurrying in a railway station will understand the constant danger of collision we meet with at all hours of the day," said the station attendant. "When we see a person coming at full speed we stand still and let him do the dodging, thus saving endless time and trouble, unless the person himself uses the same method, as was the case with the man I just encountered. It looked like a deadlock for a moment. Both of us were supplied, and in our embarrassment we dodged the same way, and it was really several minutes before we got straightened out and safely by each other."

Said the woman who finds sweetness and light in the homeliest things of earth to the man who was raking copper cents out of the guess your weight and get your money back weighing machine till: "I am so glad to find you preaching a lesson to cynics by setting your machine bang up against another machine. It would be so easy for people to weigh themselves on that machine first and then bet on a sure thing. You must have great faith in human nature, haven't you?"

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Mrs. William Butler of Newton Centre, known and honored among Methodists throughout the world as "Mother" Butler, who has just celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary, received a cable message from Baroda, India, announcing the informal opening of a hospital for women and children erected in honor of this beloved missionary in the capital of the Gaskwar, the India prince who lately visited Boston. The building, which cost about twenty thousand dollars, will be for the relief of women and children. Dr. Helie J. Allen, the physician in charge, is a Boston University graduate and prepared especially for this work by post-graduate courses in Vienna. Prominent officials of Baroda state have expressed their interest in this philanthropy. Mrs. Butler was largely instrumental in sending the first woman physician to the women of India in 1869, and has always been closely identified with the effort to afford medical aid to the secluded inmates of Oriental zenanas. In spite of her advanced age, Mrs. Butler is able to travel and has given four addresses, three in Washington, this summer, in behalf of India. She is deeply interested in the coming session of the general executive committee of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, which will be held in the First church, Temple street, Boston, in October. It will be 33 years since this national meeting was held in Boston, where the society was organized by Mrs. Butler and seven other women in 1869, and which has disbursed more than ten millions of dollars since that time for foreign missionary work.

Miss Helen L. Sumner, Ph. D., University of Wisconsin, has been appointed by the United States government to investigate the industrial courts of France and Germany, spending a month in Paris and the same time in Berlin. As an American delegate she will attend the International labor convention to be held in Switzerland in September. Dr. Sumner is the author of "Equal Suffrage."

The executive committee of the American Academy of Rome has announced the result of the competition held to select the beneficiaries of the academy for the year 1910. The prize in architecture was won by Richard Haviland Smythe of New York; the prize in sculpture by Albin Polasek of Philadelphia, and the prize in painting by Henry Lawrence Wolfe of New York. The winners became pensionnaires of the academy. They will leave in September for Italy, and will live at the Villa Mirafiori in Rome for three years, where they will work under the supervision of Frederick Crowninshield, the resident director.

Richard Haviland Smythe was born in Brooklyn, and is a graduate of the Polytechnic Preparatory. He is also a graduate of Columbia university, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts and followed the course in architecture. Albin Polasek was born in Frenstat, Moravia, of Bohemian parents. He came to America in 1901, and studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in Philadelphia. He received the Edmund Stewardson prize in sculpture, the McClellan prize in anatomy, and the Cresson traveling scholarship in 1907, 1908 and 1909. Henry Lawrence Wolfe was born in New York, received a high school education, studied two years under Chase and Beekwith at the New York School of Arts, and four years at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, where he received three prizes in composition, and the Cresson traveling scholarship in 1908.

In this year's competition the problem given to the competitors in the architectural division was a proposed government building for a bureau of fine arts on the Mall in Washington. The jury was composed of Breck Trowbridge, John M. Carrere, William R. Mead, A. A. Weinman and Francis C. Jones. The tests for the sculptors were studies in anatomy and drawing single figures and a large decorative panel in relief. The jury consisted of Herbert Adams, A. A. Weinman, Chas. Kerk, Breck Trowbridge and C. V. Turner. The problems upon which the painters were judged consisted of decorative panels. The jury consisted of H. Siddons Mowbray, Charles Breck, Francis C. Jones, Breck Trowbridge and A. R. Weinman.

The American Academy in Rome was founded by the late Charles F. McKim, and is modeled after the French academy in Rome. Among those who have contributed large sums to its support are J. P. Morgan, W. K. Vanderbilt, Henry Walters, James Stillman, Henry C. Frick and Harvard university. The president of the academy, William R. Mead, who is at present in Europe, will visit the academy next month. By the will of the late Mrs. Hyattus a magnificent property, "Villa Aurelia," with its beautiful gardens overlooking the city of Rome, was bequeathed to the academy.

FALL RIVER, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Annie Stanley, wife of Walter Stanley, left town about a week ago while her husband was absent on a vacation. Mr. Stanley charges she disposed of all the household furniture and drew about $2000 from the bank which belonged to him. About the same time a boarder, James Hannigan, also went away. On Thursday night both returned to this city from Philadelphia. Mrs. Stanley was desirous of getting a trunk she had left behind, but the pair fell into the hands of the police.

Her husband was sent for. As soon as he saw his wife he seized a pocket-book in her hand, which proved to contain $1150. This he kept.

In district court yesterday morning Mrs. Stanley and Hannigan were arraigned on a statutory charge. The woman was sentenced to one year at Sherborn prison and Hannigan for a like period in the house of correction.

HOUSE ENTERED

Holes Were Drilled to Blow

Open Safe

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Word reached police headquarters late yesterday afternoon that the house of Robert Treat

Paine, Jr., Queensberry street, Back Bay, had been broken into recently and the contents turned upside down, although nothing was taken, so far as it has been possible to learn.

It is thought that the break took place the night before last, while many of the officers of division 16 were on special detail at the big fire in the South End. The police cannot be certain of this, however, for the house is in a neighborhood through which comparatively few people pass in the summertime. When the Paine family left the city for the summer, closing the house, notice of the fact was given at station 16, so no special watch was kept upon the house.

Investigation showed that the burglars entered the house by a back door and looked this door behind them. Not only was every room in the house ransacked, bureau drawers and closets being thoroughly looted by the burglars, but it seems an attempt was also made to break a big safe, in which were kept papers of value.

The loot taken from the various rooms was found piled in a heap before this safe, in which numerous holes had been drilled, and near which was discovered nitroglycerine. The police theory is that it was the intention of the burglars to blow open the safe when some unusual noise on the outside of the house caused them to take alarm and flee, and that so great was their haste to get away that they neglected to take any of the jewelry and other things they had piled up.

A window in the front of the house, from which the burglar alarm had been removed, showed plainly which way the burglars escaped.

Mr. Paine himself was the one who reported the attempted robbery to station 16, he having gone to the house through the merest chance. The Back Bay police kept the matter secret, not even notifying headquarters of the robbery, in order that they might thoroughly investigate the premises and get some clue to the thieves.

As soon as police headquarters heard of the affair Inspector Conboy was detailed on the case.

DIAMOND NOTES

No home games this week.

That Sanctuary Choir-Lowell American game at Spaulding park Saturday will be worth seeing.

It was announced yesterday at the headquarters of the New England baseball league that Lynn and Haverhill have exchanged their games of August 11 and 13 by agreement. Lynn will play at Haverhill August 11 and Haverhill will play a double header at Lynn August 13.

Don't forget to transfer that Lowell-Haverhill game to Lynn on August 21. Haverhill day. As the parade will start at noon there will be ample time to see it before attending the game.

Almshill caught the second game for Washington. He accepted night chances but didn't lift.

Says the New Bedford Times: To bolster up his pitching staff, which is in bad shape at present, Tom Dowd this morning bought Pitcher McTighe from the Birmingham club of the Southern league. While not officially stated it is understood that the local club pays with $1200 for the twirler.

William McCormick and Fred Ulrich, both of whom were let out to the Whalers under an optional agreement by Brooklyn, have been recalled by the big leaguers. Owing to their fine work here this year, they will get a trial this fall in the big show, but McCormick is slated to play in the Texas league next season through a deal in which Brooklyn gets Pitcher Crabbe from that organization.

McTighe, the new pitcher, has been with the Haverhill club for the past few weeks. He has twirled swell ball, but is inclined to be a bit wild. When he can get the ball over the plate there is not a southpaw who has anything on the big chap. Local fans had a chance to size him up when he pitched against New Bedford last Wednesday and held the Whalers to one clean hit in nine innings.

The purchase of McTighe is under an optional agreement but it is likely that he will stick with the Whalers until the end of the season and the tain hope he will land every game in pitches.

Fred Tenney, now at the head of the Lowell team, dropped into his old headquarters yesterday. He thinks that Sherwood Magee's young brother, playing the left garden for Lowell, is going to come fast and be a major leaguer soon.

The Boston Traveler has the following:

"Fred Mitchell, the Yankee catcher who began his career as a pitcher and was with the Phillies, Boston Americans and Athletics as a twirler, stole his mother's name when he broke into the big league. His real name is Fred Yapp. Jack Quinn is another Yankee whose real name isn't generally known. John Plous is his real name, and he is a Pole instead of an Irishman."

Yapp lived in South Lawrence, when his father had charge of the Ring mark. As a matter of fact, it was Jimmy Collins, manager of the Providence Grays of the Eastern league, who made Fred change his name. Collins was with the Red Sox and Mitchell reported to him as a pitcher. When Collins was told what the new player's name was he called Fred to one side and said:

"Young man, change that name. The fans would get the idea out of you with 'Close your yapp.' Who's the yapp? and other such unpleasant expressions." So Yapp changed his name and took that of his mother's family.

Jimmy Miller, who has been holding down the middle sack for Lawrence, has been released by Manager Jimmy Bauman.

Miller has been playing with the locals all season. He was out on the lines in yesterday's game at Glen Forest, while Kruger was playing second base. Carlstrom will be played at short—Lawrence Eagle.

THE RED SOX

WILL MAKE TRIP TO THE PACIFIC COAST

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—The final arrangements were made here yesterday morning for the trip of the Boston Red Sox to the Pacific coast next spring.

President John I. Taylor of the Boston club and President Tip O'Neill of the Western league worked over the details for an hour in President O'Neill's office in the Fisher building, and gave the information that the Boston club would take the trip. Mr. O'Neill is well posted on the baseball conditions on the coast. O'Neill was the first to recognize that Duffy Lewis had the making of a good ball player and coached him after he left the high school team at Alameda.

O'Neill has been working out the itinerary since early this spring and has closed the dates and leases of ball parks from Frisco to Chicago. There will be no attempt to take all the money in California, but rather to give the coast and the western people a chance to see the Red Sox with their best team out for business.

The Chicago White Sox made the mistake of playing as soon as the playing season began, all out of condition after a long winter's rest in the east, and this preliminary work put the Chicago team in poor condition for the hard season to follow.

The Boston players will meet at San Francisco March 1 and practice for a week before playing the first game with one of the leading coast teams. As Boston will have at least six players on the payroll who will winter on the Pacific slope, the Red Sox will be in condition to show form from the first game. They will play a series of games with the clubs at Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Francisco and Oakland, making midweek trips into the interior of the state. Los Angeles and San Francisco draw tremendous crowds on Saturdays and Sundays, and President

O'Neill says that Boston will earn good money on the trip.

The team will not start east until near April, and will break the long ride by playing at Salt Lake, Denver, Omaha and two or three other minor league cities.

The following California players are now with the Boston club: Lewis, Hooper, Arellano, Hall, Moskman. At least six other players Boston will try out will be on the coast this winter. The California players are delighted with the idea of doing their spring work at home and predict a fine business, as the fans on the coast keep a close tab on the young men sent out to the major leagues.

President O'Neill will go over the ground after the close of the present season, and will have charge of the proposition until the players reach Frisco for real business in the spring. When Hugh McBrean will take charge and pilot the crew back to Boston for the opening of the season.

President John I. Taylor will in all probability spend most of the winter in California.

NO COMPLAINT TO MAKE

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 11.—Harry Lord, ex-Red Sox captain, is taking life easy at his South Portland Heights home, waiting the decision of the Boston management as he puts it.

Lord refuses to discuss the incidents which led up to the decision of the Boston management to put him on the baseball market, saying:

"It has seemed to me, from the first, that the so-called controversy between the Boston management and myself has caused comment out of all proportion to its importance. The trade or sale of a ball player is but one of the many things incidental to the career of every man in the business."

"My relations with the Boston management have always been satisfactory to me, up to and including the recent incident. If the management sees fit to sell or trade my services, I have no criticism to offer. I shall do my best to win, with whatever team I may be."

"I have no grouches either with the management, or the Boston players and I am merely waiting the decision of the management."

HUNTER FINED

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—President Chivington of the American association yesterday announced a fine of $50 against Hunter of the Kansas City club and suspended him for three days for striking Umpire Bush during a game at Kansas City Aug. 5. Bush is reinstated and assigned to duty at Milwaukee.

ON THE CREASE.

H. Hadley, captain; T. Southam, H. Monckton, R. Arncliffe, A. Mursden, J. Cookson, J. Bailey, E. Chippendale, B. Hoyle, J. O'Connell, W. Metcalfe; reserves, J. Bailey, S. Kershaw; umpire, A. On Saturday afternoon, the Zion cricket club will meet the strong Fitchburg cricket club of the Massachusetts Central league, on the home grounds at South Lowell. Game to start at 2:45 p. m. Fielding, J. Hall, W. Terkes, scorer.

What is expected to be the most exciting and interesting cricket game of the season will be played at Funting park Saturday afternoon between the Buntings and North Chelmsford cricket teams. At the last meeting of these teams the superior bowling of Monckton proved too much for the heavy batmen of the Bunting team, and they were accordingly defeated.

This Cigar Should Be 15cts. —But It's Only 10

All imported cigars carry a duty that makes them 100 per cent higher in price but not necessarily higher in quality.

It's the material and workmanship that counts—not the place they are made.

The "3-20-8" contains the best material that money can buy—fragrant and mellow leaves—the pick of the Havana crop—carefully selected by men who know.

These are imported to our factory in Boston—newly and expensively equipped, where skilled union workmen roll them into cigars of a most popular shape.

Thus by importing the leaf and saving the high duty we can sell the "3-20-8" cigar for 10 cents each—or 3 for 25 cents.

No more luxurious smoke can be had for the price. The first "3-20-8" cigar convinces the smoker of taste that it is a useless and expensive habit to buy the imported.

Representative Riley declares that the republican machine has been the chief foe to direct nominations whenever this matter came up in the state legislature.

Takes Exception

The statement sent out by the democratic state committee reads: "The democratic state committee takes exception to statements that have appeared in the newspapers throughout the state during the last few weeks, to the effect that the democratic party, or the democratic 'machine,' so-called, is against direct nominations. These statements may or may not be inspired by an impelling political party, but the facts are that the democratic party of Massachusetts in its platform has declared itself emphatically in favor of direct nominations. In addition it has done everything within its power to further legislation along these lines only to meet defeat at the hands of a hostile legislature."

In the following statement Representative Thomas E. Riley of Malden goes into detail regarding the fight at the state house made by the democrats in behalf of this measure:

"Last year on April 8 a bill was fought in the house that provided for direct nomination of candidates for senator and representative to the general court. This was the first fight in the big political battle of the year with the republican machine ranged up decisively against the democrats. The fight resulted in overwhelming victory for the democratic forces joined with the so-called 'insurgents.' Nelson of Haverhill leading the latter. The result was 129 to 82 in favor of the bill, the 82 being machine republicans."

Machine Republicans Fought Bill

"On April 26 the next fight on the direct nomination issue came on the bill providing for direct nominations for Middlesex county. Again there was a coalition of the insurgent forces under Nelson and the democratic forces under Duane of Waltham and others. The vote resulted 113 to 88 in favor of the bill, the 88 being machine republicans."

On the same day another fight was had on a bill to provide direct nominations for the fifth Middlesex senatorial district, resulting practically the same, 119 to 89, the 89 being machine republicans.

"On April 27 came another fight on direct nominations, on a bill providing for direct nominations for Essex county, and the fight resulted in a tie, 55 to 55, the bill losing as the motion in this case was the same as in the others, a motion to substitute the bill for the adverse report of the republican committee on election laws, the 55 opposing being machine republicans."

"The republican machine took a big hand in the game about this stage, and Garcelon of Newton, for whom I have the greatest regard, went so far as to exhort and threaten members in the interest of the republican machine. The fight on April 28 for reconsideration of the adverse vote on the Essex county bill was lost to the friends of the bill by 86 to 13, the 86 being mostly machine republicans. On May 11, the next stage of the fifth Middlesex bill that had been won as above, resulted in an overturn and the bill was defeated by 90 to 113, and the general direct nomination bill that had won as above, noted, was lost by a vote of 90 to 110."

It refers those interested to file of the newspapers as to press comments upon the flip-flop of republicans at the behest of the republican machine. The papers properly characterized it at the time."

There have been so many inferior brands of butterine exposed that most people are inclined not to consider it at all for use on the table. Butterine and the "Vermont Brand Butterine" are as different as it is possible to differ products, and then again most of the mixtures which bear the name of butterine are manufactured and sold illegally. This, however, is not the case in "Vermont Brand Butterine," as it is compounded, rendered and prepared for delivery under the inspective board of the government and each and every tub is labelled with a seal which guarantees its purity.

THE PLANT COMPANY

Files Its Plea in the Supreme Judicial Court

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The Thomas G. Plant company has filed its plea in the supreme judicial court, in regard to the suit brought against the concern by the United Shoe Machinery company. The suit relates to leases on machinery which the plaintiff alleges the Plant company violated.

The machines are used in the manufacture of footwear.

The plea of the Thomas G. Plant company as filed says:

"Prior to and until in or about February, 1899, the Consolidated and McKay Lasting Machine company, the McKay Shoe Machinery company, the Goodyear Shoe Machinery company, the Apple Welt Machine company were engaged in the manufacturing and dealing in shoe machinery and were in competition in such business, constituting trade and commerce among several states and with foreign countries."

Each one of said companies was itself a combination of concerns formerly engaged in competition in the shoe machinery business. Said companies were the largest and most important of those engaged in the United States in manufacturing and dealing in shoe machinery used for booting, shoemaking, and in the aggregate furnished the larger part of that class of shoe machinery at that time being put out in the United States.

Illegal Scheme

"Said plan of combination constituted an illegal scheme and conspiracy to create and maintain a combination in restraint of trade and commerce among the several states and with foreign nations in machines used for the manufacture of boots, shoes and footwear (articles of prime necessity) and accessories and supplies for such manufacture, and the plaintiff corporation was organized to be used as a part of said scheme and conspiracy, and as an instrumentality to suppress competition and maintain said intended monopoly and illegal combination in restraint of trade and commerce."

The plaintiff corporation, shortly after its organization, was fully advised of the scheme and conspiracy which had been devised by its promoters, Winslow, Brown and their associates, and with full knowledge thereof, adopted said scheme and conspiracy as its own. It thereafter proceeded in further violation of law to acquire entire ownership of such other concerns as were then engaged in competition with the plaintiff or its constituent companies in intra-state and interstate trade and commerce in shoe machinery, its accessories and supplies. The plaintiff has thus acquired and now controls a large number of companies and concerns formerly competing with it in interstate trade and commerce, the concerns thus acquired being all the concerns formerly competing except a few which are comparatively insignificant and maintain no effective competition in said business.

MASSACHUSETTS CROPS

Indications that crop conditions in Massachusetts are fair are shown by the reports collected by the state board of agriculture. The hay crop was generally one of the best in recent years in quantity and quality. Market garden crops were uneven, some having suffered severely from the dry weather and others apparently coming through uninjured. Very few potatoes had been dug and the outcome of the early crop was uncertain and was expected to be considerably shortened by drought. Later market garden crops are feeling the drought, but should recover and do well with seasonable rains.

Apples have dropped badly and the prospect for the crop was poor. Pears and plums were also reported as generally light, but peaches were rather better than usual for the state as a whole. Quinces so far as reported promised well and grapes will give a good average crop.

It was a little early to draw definite conclusions from the cranberry crop, but indications were for no better than an average yield. Rice and oats were a good crop in most sections, though there were a few complaints of oats rusting. Barley was little grown except for forage. As an early forage crop rye did well. Oats also seemed to have been very satisfactory for this purpose. Barley was doing well up to the time of making returns, but of course needs rain for its development.

GRAFT IS CHARGED

Revere Selectman Will Have to Make Answer

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Charges of graft were made and the lie passed at a meeting of the Revere board of selectmen last night.

The excitement was started by Chairman Roscoe Walsworth stating that he had received information from the state police to the effect that a member of the board was demanding a large number of tickets from a theatrical manager under pain of having his license held up. He had investigated the charges, he said, and found them true. He then named Selectman Philip Meyer as the man implicated.

Immediately Selectman Meyer jumped to his feet and accused Chairman Walsworth of deliberately lying. "Produce your man," said he, "and I'll meet him and talk to him." Mr. Meyer then moved that a hearing on the matter be held next Wednesday night and this was voted.

According to Chairman Walsworth, tickets were demanded from the theatrical manager, and upon being refused this threat was made: "If you don't give me a thousand tickets your next Sunday's license will be held up."

An effort was then made to hold up the license for that theater on the ground that there was no policeman at the entrance, and the matter was planned that when the matter was brought to the attention of the state police they acted in good faith, believing that the selectman in question was sincere.

The charge of graft was made earlier in the evening during a hearing on the collection of unpaid poll taxes by Fred E. Sackett, constable and former chief of police. Citizens crowded the selectmen's room and protested against the methods of Sackett, claiming that he was excessive in the fee he asked and that he had sprung something new on them, inasmuch as unpaid poll taxes were allowed to go two years before drastic steps for their collection were taken.

The board was asked to remove Sackett as constable, but Chairman Walsworth said there was some question whether they could do this legally. A consultation of the board and selectmen was held and the latter agreed to take 25 cents off his fee, making it $1, and agreed to extend time on payment of 1908 taxes to Aug. 15 and 1909 taxes to Sept. 5.

TOOK IN SIXTEEN LIFE OF "BIG BILL" EDWARDS THREATENED BY CRANK'S LETTER

Board of Trade. Numbers 800 Members

The membership committee of the board of trade met yesterday at the Park hotel and added 16 names to the new membership list, bringing the total membership up to 800.

The committee decided to suspend the weekly meetings until September. The committee desires to impress the fact upon business and professional men who are not members that it is not necessary for them to wait for an invitation to join. They need simply send or telephone their name to the secretary. The new members received yesterday were:

Charles A. Deland, 144 Merrimack street; Charles A. Patterson, Worcester, Mass.; Robert H. Harkins, 912 Gorham street; Jeremiah F. Connors, 268 Concord street; John K. Whittier, Supt. Wilson Machine Co.; Charles B. Fredette, Wyman's Exchange, 45 H. LeMaire & Co., 487 Middlesex street; Arthur Brunet, 16 Allen avenue; J. J. Allard, 114-116 Bennet street; W. H. Peplin, 540 Merrimack street; Harry Houpin, Market street; Martin H. Conley, Supt. City Farm; W. H. Potter, 70 Central street; C. A. Dorrados, 213 Merrimack street; Otis W. Butler, 109 Methuen street; John W. Scott, scaler of weights and measures.

The directors of the board met yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock and voted to engage new quarters in the Central block.

The rooms to be occupied by the first of September by the board are two large affairs, one of which will be used as a general assembly room and library for the members, the other for the private office of the secretary.

The directors also voted into membership the 16 candidates acted upon by the membership committee at its meeting yesterday afternoon. Two others, Mr. McCarthy and Walter Perham, not considered by the membership committee, were also voted in.

COUNTY PRESIDENT

ATTENDED THE MEETING OF DIV. 11, A. O. H.

A well attended meeting of Division 11, A. O. H., was held Tuesday night in the Germania hall, President Patrick Connolly presiding. The meeting was well attended and 25 applications were favorably acted upon.

County President John J. Donnelly was present and spoke very enthusiastically on the coming parade. Marshal John T. Hendricks reported that he had appointed his aids and urged the members to do everything in their power in order to make a good showing.

The president announced that the Leather Workers' hall has been secured for the division for the day of the parade. The division will meet there before forming in line. A committee was appointed to secure refreshments for the members of the division after the parade.

A special meeting of the division will be held at Germania hall on Sunday morning, 21st, at 10:30 a. m., when a large class initiation will be held, and the final instructions for the parade discussed.

LAWYER SCHARTON

MAKES ATTACK ON THE "WHITE SLAVE" LAW

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—W. R. Scharton, counsel for Max Peretz, raised a novel question yesterday as to the constitutionality of the "white slave" law, in a motion to quash the indictment in the second case against his client.

Peretz is indicted in three cases, the first of which was returned by the July grand jury charging him with procuring support and maintenance through the immoral practices of Frieda Peretz. In the second, returned in August, he is charged with procuring support and maintenance in part through the immoral acts of Frieda Peretz. In the third, also returned in August, he is charged with making an attempt to induce Julia Adams to lead an immoral life outside the state.

Scharton argues, among other things, that under this law no person, regardless of his vocation, can accept money from a woman, knowing her to be such, and that a law which would make a physician, a grocer or any other man liable, if he accepted money from a person known to be immoral, is unconstitutional.

He also contended that the indictment covered a period of time when no such offense as was set out was known to the law of this state, and that the law did not go into effect until May 22, 1910.

OLD LANDMARK

Stage Coach Tavern at Pelham Burned

The old stage coach tavern stand at North Pelham, which for over 100 years stood guard on the Mammoth road running between this city and Concord, N. H., and passing through the east part of Manchester, was burned just before midnight Tuesday night.

The present owner of the place, Chas. E. Stevenson, is night foreman at the Pelham car barns, and Tuesday Mrs. Stevenson drove to this city, leaving a lamp burning in the house to make traps which the folks were at home. She returned late, and just before reaching the house flames burst out of the room where the lamp was. She telephoned to Windham and Pelham, and from the last named place two carloads of men went over and managed to save the barn. The house, which was very venerable, was valued at $2000 and insured for $1000.

The place for years was used as a stage by John Foster and his father, before him after the stoppage of stage coaching had made the place unprofitable as a hotel.

The old tavern was one of the old landmarks of Pelham, having been built about one hundred years ago. It served many years as one of the relay houses between Boston and Concord in the old stage coach times and was the scene of many a chivalrous deed. It also had the distinction of sheltering President Andrew Jackson, over night, during his term of office in 1831, the only president known to have made an all-night stay in Pelham. Much sentiment was enshrouded in the old building and its destruction will be a noted loss to the town and especially the fourth ward.

EDWARDS ARRESTING GALLAGHER

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—"Big Bill" Edwards, street cleaning commissioner of New York city, firm friend of Mayor Gaynor and hero of the shooting affray on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, is the latest to be threatened that he will meet the same fate as the city's executive. He has received a letter to this effect. Edwards declares that he is used to having his life threatened and that the result of efforts to slay him has been in the other man finally believing he was the one in danger.

TEMPERANCE PARADE

Great Demonstration Was Held in Boston Last Night

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Amid the plaudits of many thousands of people who braved the frequent showers and threatening weather of last evening, 7500 men on foot, a score or more of floats bearing artistically gowned young women, and with hand after hand of music, the noble parade of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America was a great success last night. The parade started in the Back Bay section, traversed much of the South End and then came down town until at Adams square, at 9:45 o'clock, John T. Shea, the chief marshal, stopped in front of the reviewing stand where the paraders were dismissed.

The event was said to be the most impressive that had probably ever occurred at a Catholic Total Abstinence Union convention, and national officers and delegates who had attended many such affairs in the past were most enthusiastic over the fine showing. They were deeply appreciative of the interest shown by Bostonians, who turned out in such large numbers to greet and applaud the paraders along the whole route.

The marching of the paraders could not be criticised. The military discipline shown throughout the column evoked frequent comments of commendation by people along the line of march, and to the cadet companies from the Paulist fathers' parish in Chicago in abundance of applause, was given for their very clever military tactics displayed along the line of march.

The C. T. A. U. regiment from Wilkesbarre, Pa., was not forgotten in the applause, and the excellent military bearing of the men from the Pennsylvania section was noted with much enthusiasm.

Some From Fall River

The last three divisions were made up of temperance societies from around Boston, but many of these came from as far as Fall River and Holyoke. Five hundred men from the Young Men's Irish-American Total Abstinence and Benevolent Society of Fall River came on an early train and under the direction of Vear Gen. James E. Cassidy of that diocese.

The parade was somewhat late in getting started, due principally to the late arrival of some out-of-town delegations. The chief marshal, John T. Shea, and his staff were busy for an hour or more endeavoring to get the formation right and under the electric lights this was no easy matter.

Finally, at 8:15 o'clock, the word was given for the start and the head of the parade moved onto Beacon street. The paraders proceeded along Beacon street to Charles street, and the drizzling rain which had then been falling intermittently for an hour seemed to cease.

The column passed along to Charles street and here the paraders were taxed to keep their footing. The road along Charles street between the common and public gardens had been tramped up for the most several days and there was an abundance of mud.

The paraders found that stretch of travel perhaps the worst in the whole line, for once they swung into Park square the footing was far better and alignment was kept without any great trouble. In Park square a great crowd had gathered as was also the case along Charles street, and the applause for the marchers began from the time the start had been made.

Bothered by Slippery Pavement

From Park square the column passed along into Columbus avenue and until Berkeley street was reached the

and pennants were placed here and there about the machines and each one of the young women on all of the floats carried a pennant.

They were enthusiastic "joy riders" and in response to the applause rendered at them at the various points as they passed along the young women waved their pennants.

The young women from St. Catherine's parish of Norwood had a long wait for their car. By some misunderstanding they had assembled at the corner of Marlboro and Arlington streets and between 7 and 8 o'clock, while the rain was falling, they had the unpleasantness of remaining there awaiting the belated sightseeing auto that was to serve as their float.

Finally the auto which had been awaiting at another point came into sight and the 35 or 40 young women were taken aboard and put in their place in the line.

Cadets Were Skillful

The various uniforms of the cadets that came from different parishes, both in and out of town were very attractive and the little fellows showed their knowledge of military affairs time and again by demonstrating their skill.

Intricate formations were made with precision and the lads took the greatest pleasure in winning applause for these evolutions as they moved over the route of the parade. It might be said that the little fellows were much more at home on the slippery pavement than their elders.

As each detachment reached Adams square it continued on down Washington street, turning into some of the side streets and returning to the assembly points. Those from Fall River and the other places in that direction went to the South station, where the majority boarded late trains for their homes. The details from Lynn, Salem and other points to the east of Boston kept on to the North station.

Gathered on the reviewing stand at Adams square were a large number of the visiting priests as well as other delegates and it was the unanimous opinion of all that the Boston parade exceeded in every way the parades ever held before while conventions were on.

Bishop Canevin of Pittsburgh, who sat with Pres. O'Callaghan, was delighted with the parade and took deep interest in the uniformed regiment that came from his own state.

GIVEN TWO YEARS

Man Guilty of Assaulting an Officer

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Charged with assault on Policeman Katon of division 15 on June 22, John J. Dolan of Jamaica Plain was sentenced to the house of correction yesterday for two years by Judge Sanderson in the superior criminal court. Dolan, with Andrew McCarron, James F. Galvin and Edward Moore, pleaded guilty. McCarron, Galvin and Moore were placed on probation.

Dolan has recovered from a shot through the lung received at the time of the assault. Early in the evening of June 23 several women told Policeman Katon that a man had insulted them. Katon arrested a man named Gorman and as he was taking Gorman to the box at Williams and Washington streets in Jamaica Plain, Dolan ordered him to release Gorman. Upon Katon's refusal there was some talk, whereupon Dolan, with his club, struck Katon on the head with it.

The policeman said that at the same time someone was trying to get his revolver. He reached it first, however, and as Dolan stood before him with the club raised and ready to strike he pulled the trigger. The revolver did not go off, but on the second trial he sent a bullet through Dolan's body. Dolan, as he was shot as he was running away.

tribe, and if their boasts as fishermen can be taken as a criterion when the boat which they chartered pulls into Salem, tonight it will be necessary to engage several drays in order to take care of the catch.

The fishermen left Merrimack square on a special car at 12:15 o'clock this morning in a drizzling rain and rode to Salem Willows, and upon arriving at the latter place boarded the yacht "Evangelist." ## EXTRA BIG LAWN PARTY Opened at Columbus Park This Afternoon

Midway With Wealth of Attractions and Band Concert Delighted Hundreds of Children—The Big Show Is On This Evening

The greatest of lawn parties in the history of the immaculate Conception parish was opened for the children this afternoon at Columbus park with an attendance of several hundred little ones, including the children of St. Peter's orphanage, who were the special guests of Rev. George I. Nolan, O. M. I. pastor of the Immaculate Conception church and many adults.

In addition to the crowd within the confined fence of the park, hundreds stood in East Merrimack street during the afternoon, including about all of the female part of the Polish colony in Belvidere, for the strains of sweet music from the Lowell Cadet band could not be confined by fence or certain and were wafted by the gentle breezes to quite a distance. The band took its station in front of the main entrance and under the direction of John J. Giblin gave a delightful program which is to be repeated this evening.

At the entrance of the park a dozen or more big automobiles took passengers for a ride around the hill and a nominal sum and they were kept busy throughout the afternoon.

Within the park the scene beggared description and outwitted the Smith

THE O. M. I. CADETS Tents Will Be Pitched at Camp Ground Next Monday

The O. M. I. Cadets will go to camp next Tuesday and will spend three days in the open. Tents will be pitched in Sullivan's grove next Monday by a squad from the Cadets, and all preparations will be made for the feeding and housing of the Cadets, during their three days' stay at the camp ground. The supervision of the camp will be under Lieut. McArdle, the military instructor of the Cadets, and the chaplain, Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., will conduct the religious services. Matthew McCann, the well known police officer, will spend the time at the camp and will look after the athletic work of the young soldiers, and those who know "Mat" repose the greatest confidence in him. He will conduct all the games the boys engage in, and will give them valuable advice as to the method of training. Lieut. McArdle will see that the boys are properly drilled and that they adhere strictly to the rules of discipline that will be established at the camp. The hardest work for the Cadets will come in the morning when they will be engaged in drilling. In the afternoons there will be athletic sports and baseball games. Manager Gray and the members of the Lowell baseball association have agreed to furnish baseball supplies to the boys for the three days and other favors are being extended by friends.

The affair will be the greatest in the history of the Cadets and when the officers and parents of the young people visit camp next week they will be surprised at the scene they will witness. The location of the camp is most desirable. Every accommodation is provided and the sanitary conditions cannot be surpassed. Tomorrow night another meeting of the Cadets, past and present members will be held and the final orders for the encampment will be issued. It's going to be a big thing and it will afford the Cadets a chance to have great practice before their appearance in the A. O. H. parade the following week.

Rev. Fr. Sullivan has extended an invitation to Humphrey O'Sullivan, chief marshal of the A. O. H. parade to visit the camp and Mr. O'Sullivan has promised to do so. If he possibly can, he says that he will spend a night in camp. At any rate he says that he will call on them and speak a few words to them.

TO INCREASE RATES

HOOSIER POET ILL

TWENTY INJURED By An Explosion of Dynamite

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Twenty persons were injured this afternoon by the premature explosion of a heavy charge of dynamite in an excavation on East 32nd street, which threw the entire neighborhood into a panic and did heavy damage to property in the vicinity. Roofs of houses nearby were crushed in under the weight of rock and sand which was hurled far and high by the blast.

LINCOLN SUPPORTER DEAD
NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—John B. Allen, aged ninety-six years and six months, who as a New York delegate turned the tide in favor of the nomination of Abraham Lincoln for president at the republican convention in Chicago in 1860, after the chairman of the New York delegates had announced William H. Seward as their choice for president, is dead at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. Homer Travis, 153 West 58th street, Mount Vernon. A cancerous growth was the cause of his death. Mr. Allen is survived by a daughter, Mrs. J. Homer Travis and three sons, George, of Boston, and Levi and Frank Allen, of New York. He was a grand nephew of Ethan Allen, of Revolutionary fame.

WORK RESUMED
PROVIDENCE, Aug. 11.—The mill situation at Olneyville, the largest woolworsted centre in the state, assumed a brighter aspect today when some of the looms at the National-Providence mills which have been closed for two weeks were put in operation. It was announced that more looms would be started on Monday and that from now on there would be a gradual increase, not only by those mills, but by the others which are running on full time.

The National-Providence mills owned by the American Woolen company are one of the largest plants in this section and employ when running in full nearly 2000 operatives.

The car then proceeded to the Vesper Boat club landing, where the steamer Governor Allen was boarded and a trip up the stream enjoyed. Upon arriving at the grounds the usual sports were carried out and refreshments enjoyed.

CLUE DISCOVERED

To Identity of Body of Victim in Crippen Case

LONDON, Aug. 11.—It is reported today that the authorities have discovered a clue to the certain identity of the body unearthed in the Hilldrop Crescent home of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen now under arrest in Quebec awaiting extradition on the charge of having murdered an unnamed woman. The police have contended all along that the bits of flesh found were parts of the body of Belle Elmore, the actress wife of Dr. Crippen, but their identification as such has been a matter of much doubt. It is generally believed that the case of the crown rests on a positive identification and the greatest importance is attached to the latest development. The hopeful clue was obtained during an exhaustive examination of the body made by Prof. Pepper, the home office expert who had previously given many hours to the problem.

During the five hours that he worked Prof. Pepper obtained conclusive evidence that the sex was feminine. He then continued with the purpose of determining the manner of death, having in mind the possibility that poison was used. The analysis, so far as the poison theory is concerned, was not completed today but it was reported that the physician found evidence that at some period the woman had undergone a surgical operation. If this can be established the authorities claim that they will have gone a long way in proving that the victim was Belle Elmore. The inquest will be resumed on Monday and as that day approaches interest in the case is revived. It is doubtful, however, if anything beyond the scientific evidence is brought to light before the return here of Dr. Crippen and Ethel Clara Leneve who is jointly charged with him with guilty knowledge of the woman's death.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS PREVAILS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 11.—Much concern is being felt throughout the state on account of the steady increase of infantile paralysis. Up to about a week ago the dread disease was practically unknown in Rhode Island, but since that time new cases have been reported nearly every day. Yesterday two more children were afflicted with the strange malady and today another was stricken. The case reported today is the eight-year-old daughter of Supt. William Stoppard of the Warwick waist mill at Coventry. Her body is devoid of feeling from the waist down.

FAMOUS PASTOR THE JOYETTE

Is Now Working for $40 a Month Won in the Second Division Today

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The Rev. Ingram N. W. Irvine, who once defied Bishop Ethelbert Talbot of the Episcopal diocese of central Pennsylvania, when that prelate ordered him to administer the rites of communion to a leech woman of his congregation at Huntingdon, Pa., who had been divorced three times, is now working for about $40 a month.

Dr. Irvine was yesterday examined in supplementary proceedings in connection with a judgment for $136, issued against him and in favor of J. B. Muford of 607 West street. The debt was contracted three years ago while Mr. Muford, who was then a captain in the Salvation Army, had charge of the Salvation Army hotel in Chatham square.

"Dr. Irvine came to me," Mr. Muford said, "and asked me to loan him $100 in order to bring his wife to this city. I took his note for six months, but have not yet been able to get the money."

The examination yesterday failed to reveal assets of the debtor. Dr. Irvine is now living at 241 West 194th street. He is connected with St. Nicholas cathedral in East 97th street. It was with this Russian Orthodox church that Dr. Irvine became affiliated after his losing controversy with Bishop Talbot.

The struggle was one of the most bitter and memorable in ecclesiastical history in this country. Dr. Irvine had, as one of his parishioners at Huntingdon, Pa., a rich woman, Mrs. Emma Elliott, a friend of Bishop Talbot. When Dr. Irvine learned that she had been divorced three times he declined to permit her to receive the sacrament of holy communion at his hands.

Mrs. Elliott carried her protest to Bishop Talbot and he ordered Rector Irvine to apologize and give Mrs. Elliott spiritual aid. As the rector considered the teachings of the Episcopal church contrary to the orders of the bishop he refused to obey. He was finally driven from his pulpit and came to New York to continue his ministerial work with the Russian church.

AGREEMENT REACHED
LYNN, Aug. 11.—The further entrance of the United Shoe Workers of America into the labor control of Lynn was evidenced today when the firm of William Porter & Sons, employing between 400 and 500 hands, entered into an agreement to submit differences to either a local board or state board of arbitration. This is the second local concern to come to an agreement with the organization which is a rival of the Foot & Shoe Workers union from which it drew its original membership. The new organization is not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

KICKED TO DEATH
BUFFALO, Aug. 11.—Because he stopped playing his violin in a vacant lot late last Sunday night Jacob Kozlo was so battered and kicked that he died yesterday from his injuries. The police, seeking the assassin, gave out the story yesterday. Kozlo, who was a laborer in the day time, and a dance-hall violinist at night, was crossing a vacant lot, homeward, after midnight, when he was stopped by several men who ordered him to play on his violin. Kozlo played softly at first, many popular attention of some passerby. Fearing a moment he was brutally pounded and knocked down. Then, yanked to his feet, he was ordered to continue. He played until exhausted. Further blows were rained upon him and he was left helpless.

PERSONALS
Mr. M. J. Roughtan and daughter, Mae, are staying at Lynn beach. Miss Julia Burke, cashier at Pace's Spa, is spending a two weeks' vacation in Worcester, and before her return will visit friends in Connecticut.

PRESENTED THEIR LETTERS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Modesto Barrios and Sebastian Salinas, special ambassadors of the Madrid mission to Nicaragua, paid an official call at the state department this morning and presented their letters. These letters, in Spanish, addressed in Spanish, were over to translators. The contents are not known.

PRIVATE McCARTHY

Lowell Boy Captures the $500 Trophy

CAMP PERRY, O., Aug. 11.—The $500 adjutant general's cup, hung up by the Ohio state rifle association for the best 1000-yard marksmanship in 20 shots, is coming to Boston. Private William H. McCarthy, of Lowell, a member of Co. C, 2d corps cadets, will bring it. He defeated 167 competitors yesterday by a score of 97 out of the possible 100.

By hitting the bullseye on his 20th shot Private McCarthy captured the handsome cup, which Sergt. J. W. Hilerie of the U. S. marine corps won last year, when it was first shot for Private George W. Chesley of the 2d Connecticut had scored 97 with a 4 for his final shot.

McCarthy and Chesley, it so happened, shot on the same target, and McCarthy's finish was the sensational event of the tournament so far. Private Chesley was on the Massachusetts team for seven years preceding 1905, when the rules eliminated him.

Private McCarthy gets not only the massive $500 cup, but also $25 and a gold medal. For seven years he shot on the 9th Massachusetts team. This is his first year in the state's delegation to the national shoot.

Among the Massachusetts scores in the adjutant general's match, which event the Bay states went into chiefly for practice for the national events, were Col. Upton 91, Lieut. Parker 86, Sergt. Daniels 80, Private Burnham 90, Qm. Sergt. Keough 89.

The 12 prize-winners ranked as follows:

Private W. H. McCarthy, Mass., 97
Private G. W. Chesley, Conn., 97
Capt. E. W. Eddy, Ohio, 96
Lieut. Col. C. B. Winder, Ohio, 96
Lieut. Glenn Vanauaden, Ind., 95
Sergt. F. Wahlstrom, U. S. M. C., 94
Capt. W. H. Richards, Ohio, 94
Maj. C. C. Townsend, Colo., 94
Sergt. Victor Czizka, U. S. M. C., 94
H. E. Simon, Ohio, 94
Arthur Cook Smith, Colo., 93
Stewart, U. S. navy, 93

The Dupont 1000 yard match at 800 yards was won by Sergt. J. Grebenz of the 4th U. S. cavalry, who scored 19 bulls. Corp. T. Worsham, U. S. marine corps, got second honors with 16 bulls; Sergt. L. Garrett, Indiana, third with 13 and Sergt. L. Coyle, marine corps, fourth with 12.

MRS. JUDITH FOSTER

Native of Lowell Died in Washington Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Judith Ellen Horton Foster, noted throughout the country as a temperance lecturer and writer and advocate of missions and philanthropy, died in Garfield hospital here today following an operation.

Mrs. Foster was born in Lowell, Mass., in 1840, being educated in the New England public schools and at the Genesee Wesleyan seminary at Lima, N. Y.

In Iowa she studied law and was admitted to the bar of that state. Later Mrs. Foster took an active interest in the Y. W. C. T. U. and became a religious and philanthropic speaker.

During recent years Mrs. Foster had made her home in Washington and was actively engaged up to within a short time of her death in prison reform investigations for the United States department of justice.

THE MATHEWS BACK FROM COAST

Made Big Hit in Boston Parade John T. Campbell Meets Old Friends

Despite the threatening clouds that hung over the city, several hundred members of the Mathew Temperance Institute journeyed to Boston last night and participated in the Catholic Total Abstinence Union parade. The trip to the Hub was made by special train which left Middlesex street station about 6.20 o'clock. Accompanying the members were a large number of friends.

Back among the old folks once again, healthy, happy and prosperous, is John T. Campbell, formerly of Centralville, but now a respected citizen of Los Angeles, Cal.

Just five years ago, Mr. Campbell, broken down in health and life, despaired of, at the solicitation of his brother, Robert Campbell, now a leading theatrical man of Los Angeles, mustered up sufficient courage to make the trip across the continent and bade his Lowell friends farewell. Many thought that they would never see him again, but they reckoned without a knowledge of the health-restoring features of the glorious climate of California.

Upon arriving at the coast John was in pretty poor condition and remained for some time at the comfortable home of his brother where he soon began to pick up and in a short time was able to obtain employment. Having always been of an industrious nature he soon made good and in a short time he was able to send for his family who went west to find a cosy home awaiting them.

While in Lowell before his illness made him give up his work Mr. Campbell was employed with the C. H. Joyce company and is now connected with the "Budweiser" saloon of Los Angeles, one of the largest establishments of its kind in Los Angeles. Mr. Campbell will remain two weeks in Lowell and will then return to the west to resume his managerial duties. Speaking of Los Angeles Mr. Campbell was eloquent. He states that it is the most delightful place as to climate in the country. July and August are the two quiet months of the year while during the other ten the city and vicinity are crowded with tourists and health-seekers. Business is booming there all the year round and everyone finds steady employment. Mr. Campbell states that Billy Donahue of Centralville is prospering in the theatrical business, Peter Kelly runs the leading shoe business of the city, while a Mr. Dickson, a retired merchant, is enjoying life and talking about old times in Lowell.

JAMES F. BOURKE, Marshal.

The Lowell men were headed by the Lowell Cadet band. The return, by special, was made at 11.30 o'clock, the train pulling into the station soon after 12 o'clock. James F. Bourke was marshal of the Lowell delegation, and at the head of the line was President James J. Gallagher and Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph. D., pastor of St. Peter's church. At the convention the M. T. I. is represented by President Gallagher and Vice President Boyle.

The Lowell boys were cheered to the echo along the line and didn't mind the rain a little bit. Several years ago the Mathews landed in Peabody in a terrific rainstorm with a big attendance, and last night's downpour was not surprising. President Shea of the C. T. A. U. was pleased with the Lowell men and their splendid showing.

ESPERANTISTS ARRIVE
NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Aboard the steamship George Washington when she reached port yesterday were a number of Esperantists who are on their way to attend the Esperanto congress in Washington.

Bosches Dr. H. H. Zamenhof, the inventor of Esperanto, and his wife, there were 12 men and women from different parts of Europe, who, knowing their native tongue, would have been unable to converse with one another had it not been for the language Esperanto.

FARMER ROBBED

He Was Attacked by Yeggs at Plymouth, N. H.

PLYMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 11.—George H. Robinson, a farmer, was the victim of two "yeggs" yesterday, who struck him and left him unconscious on the floor of his barn, a mile below here, at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Robinson suffered the loss by fire of his farmhouse some few years ago, since which time he has lived in the village. It was customary for him to work daily upon his farm land and to carry his dinner. Yesterday, while eating from his dinner pail near the front door of his barn, he was accosted by a

to the village and later last evening Mr. Robinson was removed to his home where he is being attended by Dr. Ezra C. Chase.

He is suffering from severe bruises on the back of the head, the result, without doubt, of a severe blow with a sandbag. As he was struck he pitched forward and has a cut an inch long where he hit upon the floor of the barn. The robbers stayed around long enough to devour the dinner that Mrs. Robinson had prepared for her husband, after which they departed. While he was not perfectly clear last night in his recollections, Mr. Robinson described one of his assailants as about 5 feet 10 inches tall and as wearing a soft black felt hat and gray coat. The other he is unable to describe. Four tramps were held in the lockup last night.

INSPECTOR LAFAMME

For Paving Loan of $120,000 for Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Aug. 11.—Apparently no bonding house was especially interested in this city's paving loan of $120,000, as not a bid was received yesterday when the time expired for proposals. This apathy is regarded as a consequence of the tangled municipal affairs, which have existed since Mayor William P. White was sentenced to the house of correction for conspiracy.

The showing of the city's assets given in the fiscal statement that accompanied the call for bids set forth that on July 25 the city had a borrowing capacity of $201,105.22, and counsel for the Boston banking house that handles the city's loans gave assurance of the legality of the issue.

The total loan authorized is $150,000, of which it was proposed to have $30,000 taken by the municipal sinking funds, leaving $120,000 to be disposed of in the open market. The rate of interest is fixed at not more than 4 per cent and in some quarters there was a belief that this rate did not appear attractive to those having money to loan.

Work has already been begun on a portion of the paving project for Broadway from the Falls bridge to the Methuen line and on other streets. The contractor having the Broadway section has already opened up a long stretch and work is in progress on Railroad street and Essex street. With no money available to make payments it is likely work will be suspended unless some provision is made to tide over the emergency.

GRAND TRIBUTE

To the Memory of John Boyle O'Reilly

"Thank God for one dead friend.
With face still radiant with the light of truth.

Whose love comes laden with the scent of youth
Through twenty years of death."

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—With these words of the illustrious poet fresh in their minds, the members of the John Boyle O'Reilly club stood in their places at their memorial meeting, held at the Exchange club yesterday, and offered a silent toast for him who, 20 years after his demise, still lives fresh in their minds.

About the board were those who in life had been proud to call him friend and companion. Among them were ex-mayors of the city in which he had accomplished so much, an ex-governor, who had known him in life, and of the good deeds he had done for the commonwealth, men who in their daily life had seen him battle in the war of life and gained personally by following the example he had set them, and also one who was instrumental in giving to Boston and New England the illustrious John Boyle O'Reilly. This latter was Captain Henry C. Hathaway, who rescued O'Reilly from his Australian prison.

Preserve Douth Castle

One of the principal features of the commemorative exercises was the suggestion made by Mayor John F. Fitzgerald that some action should be taken by the club, Irish societies and the British government to preserve Douth Castle, where the poet was born.

In the words of the mayor it was now a puzzle for a visitor to find his way to the castle, and he expressed the hope that within a few years this would not be the case and that the castle should become so cared for that visitors to Ireland would have no trouble in finding the birthplace of O'Reilly.

Poems to the memory of the one whom they had gathered together to honor were also contributed, one from the pen of Miss Katherine E. Conway, read by William H. Leahy, secretary to the mayor, and others by Joseph Smith and Denis McCarthy.

Those present were: Ex-Gov. Curtis Guild Jr., Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, ex-Mayor Thomas Hart, ex-Mayor Josiah Quincy, Judge Robert Grant, Gen. Charles H. Taylor, Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, Stephen O'Meara, Capt. Henry C. Hathaway, James S. Murphy, Judge John H. Burke, Edward H. Clement, J. Mitchell Galvin, George E. Babbitt, H. Keating, Otis Kimball, Joseph Smith, H. Staples, Potter, William H. Leahy, George G. Crocker, Alexander Stohart, J. H. O'Neill, Dr. F. A. Harris, T. B. Lawler, C. E. L. Wingate, E. F. J. Keany, Judge B. C. Bumpus, James B. Cotter, A. C. Ratnesky, Judge M. J. Murray, Charles E. Gorran, James J. Tholan, Denis McCarthy, Humphrey O'Sullivan, J. D. McLaughlin, Col. T. W. Higginson, Judge Charles A. DeCoursey, Benjamin Kimball, Edward P. #### BOYS ARRESTED IN NASHUA SPENT DAY AT LAKEVIEW

NASHUA, N. H., Aug. 11.—Three boys, John Peone, aged 14, and Jerome Baker and James Holihan, each 13 years old, are at the police station for safe keeping, after a long trip from their respective homes in Revere, Mass., which they undertook yesterday.

Patrolman James Winn found them wandering on the streets last night at a time when all small children should be in bed, and, after questioning them, decided to take them to the station. By the boys' story, it appears that they left Revere yesterday morning and spent the day at Lakeview park on the side of Lowell. In the evening they took an electric car for Nashua, and upon arrival in this city went to a moving picture show. When they came out of the theatre it was too late for them to get back to their homes. They will be returned home today, in all probability.

LOWELL MAN FINED

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 11.—Albert L. Paul, of Lowell, Mass., who was arrested by Patrolman Conlon for smoking at the table of eighteen miles an hour on Union street, pleaded guilty in court on Wednesday and was ordered to pay a fine of $10 with costs of $4.62.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

If conditions on Boston common are half as bad as the yellow journals claim, the wonder is that no one ever heard about these dreadful dangers until Fitzzy and O'Meara began to quarrel.

We no longer consider the bravery of the soldiers who have faced the guns of the enemy; indeed we have almost forgotten them in view of the latter day bravery. The brave men of our day are the congressmen who had the courage to face the Cannon's mouth.

Automobile races are very good things in their way for sport, for speed tests and for stimulating trade in automobiles, but we doubt very much if they are any indication of the excellence of a car for ordinary purposes. The car that can make a mile in the shortest time is not always the most desirable car for the man who wants to use it in a rational way.

TAFT LAYS DOWN NEW RULE.

President Taft in his speech at Rockland laid down a very good rule, and one which all future presidents should follow. The president got to a point in his speech where he must either change the subject or talk politics. He hesitated long enough to say, "A president of the United States should never talk politics," and the audience cheered to the echo. When his auditors at Rockland cheered the whole country cheered. He was right. A president should not talk politics.

RUINING SMOOTH PAVED STREETS

It does seem a pity to see men tearing up our beautiful smooth pavements in the center of the city in order to put down pipes, wires and other necessary things for the adjoining buildings. Perhaps the men who take up the paving are able to set it down again in as good condition as they found it, but they don't always do it. Unless the repair work on smooth paved streets is done better in the future than it has been in the past, we will be obliged to compel the abutters to tunnel under the street as they are obliged to do in other cities instead of breaking up the paving at the surface.

THE WIRELESS AT SEA

After this year all ocean steamers carrying more than the minimum number of passengers will be compelled to equip with some form of wireless telegraphy. This is a wise provision of law, and everyone will be pleased to learn of its enactment. Passengers on ocean liners are entitled to the benefits of every safety device, just as our railway passengers are protected by the adoption of every railroad life saving invention. When all the ocean steamers are equipped with wireless telegraphy, travel by sea will be robbed of practically all its dangers.

AFRAID OF ROOSEVELT

There are wise old men in this country, who when you speak of Theodore Roosevelt shake their heads in a knowing way, and say: "Dangerous man, dangerous man, is that Roosevelt." What do they mean? Are they afraid that "Teddy" will place a crown upon his head, or that he will come down upon the people as the man on horseback. If they have any such fears they are not well founded. If Roosevelt is dangerous to the country, he is fully as dangerous to himself. When he shows any symptoms of improper ambition the country is big enough to take care of "Teddy," and many more like him. Roosevelt is more dangerous to himself than he is to anyone else, for in his love for show and public applause he may some day lose some of the discretion, which has stood by him thus far, and go beyond proper limits. When he does the American people will take the conceit out of Mr. Theodore Roosevelt in very short order. Meanwhile he is riding to a fall as a political boss, or we miss our guess.

WE CANNOT CAST THE FIRST STONE

Poor Lawrence, our sister city down the river, is in a sorry plight. Not only is she in disgrace, but she is also financially embarrassed. Her credit has gone down to so low an ebb that she has to pay a higher rate of interest for borrowed money than merchants on our streets have to pay on ordinary commercial paper.

Her former mayor is in jail; her city fathers are quarrelling; the treasury is empty, and needed improvements and repairs are likely to come to a standstill through the lack of funds. And who brought Lawrence to this state of disgrace and embarrassment? Who but the fool voters, who always take delight in voting for fool candidates and street brawling reformers.

Yet we should be the last to cast a stone at our sister city, for we have also been guilty of sin, and what is more, we sincerely believe that if the ex-mayor of Lawrence should be released from jail today, and should come to the city of Lowell and talk to its citizens from the street corners, assail everything and everybody in sight, and make the most ridiculous promises, there would be hundreds, yes, thousands of thoughtless, reckless fool voters in our city who would do their utmost to put him into power at city hall. And what is most unaccountable they would do all this the more readily if they knew for a certainty that he would be likely to bring disgrace and embarrassment upon our city and give us a horrible spectacle of fool administration and public turmoil, and keep up a holy municipal show from one end of the year to the other. But fortunately for this and other cities, the number of voters who would do this sort of thing a second time is growing less and less each day and at the present time they are not numerous enough to bring any more disgrace upon cities that have been through the fire of bitter experience.

SEEN AND HEARD

Pa's got back from his vacation and his nose is peeling and red. And he's crosser than darnation, and his hair is full of dandruff. He keeps flyin' on the handle more than forty times a day. Ma's afraid he'll start a scandal if he keeps on long this way.

When he went he said: "I'm goin' where I'll have a chance to rest. Where there ain't no whistles blowing and no need of keepin' dressed. I am goin' where they'll let me lie around just as I please. With no telegrams to fret me and my friends the silent trees."

"Don't you dare write letters to me, I'll not get them, if you do. There no fun friends shall pursue me, and I'll get built up anew; What I need is sleep and quiet; what I want is to lie down. Far from all the rush and riot and the hoorah of the town."

So he went alone, intendin' not to fret a bit. And he took no time for sendin' postal cards back home to us; He's returned from his vacation, and his nose is peeling and sore. And he's crosser than darnation and more nervous than before.

Don't expect any more of your friends than you are willing to do for your friends. Ever so, you are likely to be disappointed.

Possibly every man has his price, but many a man can't get it.

The neighborhood would look better if the man who has his house painted regularly every spring, even when it doesn't need it, would spend the money for painting some of the houses around that do need it.

To judge a man's real character, don't regard his daily work. Find out what his hobby is.

No doubt it is true that the world is getting better all the time, but are you doing your full share?

If Mr. Bartlett had lived long enough to compile a "Dictionary of Misquotations," he could have made a good-sized book.

A poet writes: "The world is not my friend." Perhaps it would be some if he would quit trying to write poetry.

To be sure, poverty is not a crime, but then, wealth isn't, either.

"Any one who stops to consider the number of persons hurrying in a railroad station will understand the constant danger of collision we meet with at all hours of the day," said the attendant. "When we see a person coming at full speed we stand still and let him go the dodging thus saving endless time and trouble, unless the person himself uses the same method, as was the case with the man I just encountered. It looked like a deadlock for a moment. Both of us were surprised, and in our embarrassment we dodged the same way, and it was really several minutes before we got straightened out and safely by each other."

Said the woman who finds sweetness and light in the homeliest things of earth to the man who was raising coy-ners out of the guess your weight and get your money back weighing machine till:

"I am so glad to find you preaching a lesson to cynics by setting your machine bang up against another machine. It would be so easy for people to weigh themselves on that machine first and then bet on a sure thing. You must have great faith in human nature, haven't you?"

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Mrs. William Butler of Newton Centre, known and honored among Methodists throughout the world as "Mother" Butler, who has just celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary, received a cable message from Baroda, India, announcing the informal opening of a hospital for women and children erected in honor of this beloved missionary in the capital of the Gaekwar, the India prince who lately visited Boston. The building, which cost about twenty thousand dollars, will be for the relief of women and children. Dr. Belle J. Allen, the physician in charge, is a Boston University graduate and prepared especially for this work by post-graduate courses in Vienna. Prominent officials of Baroda state have expressed their interest in this philanthropy. Mrs. Butler was largely instrumental in sending the first woman physician to the women of India in 1889, and has always been closely identified with the effort to afford medical aid to the secluded inmates of Oriental zenanas. In spite of her advanced age Mrs. Butler is able to travel and has given four addresses, three in Washington, this summer, for their children. She is deeply interested in the coming session of the general executive committee of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, which will be held in the First Church, Temple street, Boston, in October. It will be 32 years since this national meeting was held in Boston, where the society was organized by Mrs. Butler and seven other women, and which has disbursed more than ten millions of dollars since that time for foreign missionary work.

Miss Helen L. Sumner, Ph. D., University of Wisconsin, has been appointed by the United States government to investigate the industrial courts of France and Germany, spending a month in Paris and the same time in Berlin. As an American delegate she will attend the international labor convention to be held in Switzerland in September. Dr. Sumner is the author of "Equal Suffrage."

The executive committee of the American Academy of Fine Arts has announced the result of the competition held to select the beneficiaries of the academy for the year 1910. The prize in architecture was won by Richard Haviland Smyth of New York; the prize in sculpture by Albin Polasek of Philadelphia, and the prize in painting by Henry Lawrence Wolfe of New York. The winners became pensionnaires of the academy. They will leave in September for Rome and will live at the Villa Mirafiori in Rome for three years, where they will work under the supervision of Frederick Crowninshield, the resident director.

Richard Haviland Smyth was born in Brooklyn, and is a graduate of the Polytechnic Preparatory. He is also a graduate of Columbia university, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts and followed the course in architecture. Albin Polasek was born in Frentst, Moravia, of Bohemian parents. He came to America in 1901, and studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in Philadelphia. He received the Edmund Stewardson prize in sculpture, the McClellan prize in composition, the Grady prize in composition, and the Cresson traveling scholarship in 1907, 1908 and 1909. Henry Lawrence Wolfe was born in New York, received a high school education, studied two years under Chase and Beekwith at the New York School of Art, and four years at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, where he received three prizes in composition and the Cresson traveling scholarship in 1908.

In this year's competitions the problem given to the competitors in the architectural division was a proposed government building for a bureau of fine arts on the Hill in Washington. The jury was composed of Frank Trowbridge, John M. Carrere, William R. Mead, A. A. Weinman and Francis C. Jones. The tests for the sculptors were studies in anatomy and drawing single figures and a large decorative panel in relief. The jury consisted of Herbert Adams, A. A. Weinman, Chas. Keck, Brock Trowbridge and C. Y. Turner. The problems upon which the painters were judged consisted of decorative panels. The jury consisted of H. Siddons Mowbray, Charles Brock, Francis C. Jones, Brock Trowbridge and A. R. Weinman.

The American academy in Rome was founded by the late Charles F. McKim, and is modeled after the French academy in Rome. Among those who have contributed large sums to its support are J. T. Morgan, W. C. Brewster, Henry Walters, James Stillman, Henry C. Frick and Harvard university. The president of the academy, William R. Mead, who is at present in Europe, will visit the academy next month. By the will of the late Mrs. Myland a magnificent property, the Villa Aurelia, with its beautiful gardens overlooking the city of Rome, was bequeathed to the academy.

SENT TO PRISON

Stanley Says Wife Took His $2000

FALL RIVER, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Annie Stanley, wife of Walter Stanley, left town about a week ago while her husband was absent on a vacation. Mr. Stanley charges she disposed of all the household furniture and drew about $2000 from the bank which belonged to him. About the same time a boarder, James Hannigan, also went away. On Thursday night both returned to this city from Philadelphia. Mrs. Stanley was desirous of getting a trunk she had left behind, but the pair fell into the hands of the police.

Her husband was sent for. As soon as he saw his wife he seized a pocket-book in her hand, which proved to contain $1160. This he kept.

In district court yesterday morning Mrs. Stanley and Hannigan were arraigned on a statutory charge. The woman was sentenced to one year at Sherborn prison and Hannigan for a like period in the house of correction.

HOUSE ENTERED

Holes Were Drilled to Blow

Open Safe

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Word reached police headquarters late yesterday afternoon that the house of Robert Treat Paine, Jr., Queensberry street, Back Bay, had been broken into recently and the contents turned upside down, although nothing was taken, so far as it has been possible to learn.

It is thought that the break took place the night before last, while many of the officers of division 16 were on special detail at the big fire in the South End. The police cannot be certain of this, however, for the house is in a neighborhood through which comparatively few people pass in the summertime. When the Paine family left the city for the summer, closing the house, no notice of the fact was given at station 16, so no special watch was kept upon the house.

Investigation showed that the burglars entered the house by a back door and locked this door behind them. Not only was every room in the house ransacked, bureau drawers and closets being thoroughly looted by the burglars, but it seems an attempt was also made to wreck a big safe, in which were kept papers of value.

The loot taken from the various rooms was found piled in a heap before this safe, in which numerous holes had been drilled and near which was discovered nitroglycerine. The police theory is that it was the intention of the burglars to blow open the safe.

THE PLANT COMPANY

Files Its Plea in the Supreme Judicial Court

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The Thomas G. Plant company has filed its plea in the supreme judicial court, in regard to the suit brought against the concern by the United Shoe Machinery company. The suit relates to leases on machinery which the plaintiff alleges the Plant company violated.

In its answer the defendant declares that the leases are "illegal, void and unenforceable."

The machines are used in the manufacture of footwear.

The plea of the Thomas G. Plant company as filed says:

"Prior to and until in or about February, 1899, the Consolidated and McKay Lasting Machine company, the McKay Shoe Machinery company, the Goodyear Shoe Machinery company, the Apple Well Machine company were engaged in the manufacturing and dealing in shoe machinery and were in competition in such business, constituting trade and commerce among several states and with foreign countries.

Each one of said companies was its own combination of concerns formerly engaged in competition in the shoe machinery business. Said companies were the largest and most important of those engaged in the United States in manufacturing and dealing in shoe machinery used for bottoming boots, shoes and footwear, and in the aggregate furnished the larger part of that class of shoe machinery at that time being put out in the United States.

Illegal Scheme

"Said plan of combination constituted an illegal scheme and conspiracy to create and maintain a combination in restraint of trade and commerce and a monopoly of trade and commerce among the several states and with foreign nations in machines used for the manufacture of boots, shoes and footwear (articles of prime necessity) and accessories and supplies for such manufacture, and the plaintiff corporation was organized to be used as a part of said scheme and conspiracy and as an instrumentality to suppress competition and maintain said intended monopoly and illegal combination in restraint of trade and commerce.

"The plaintiff corporation, shortly after its organization, was fully advised of the scheme and conspiracy which had been devised by its promoters, Winslow, Brown and their associates, and with full knowledge thereof adopted said scheme and conspiracy as its own. It thereafter proceeded in further violation of law to acquire entire ownership or control of such other concerns as were then engaged in competition with the plaintiff or its constituent companies in intra-state and interstate trade and commerce in shoe machinery, its accessories and supplies. The plaintiff has thus acquired and now controls a large number of companies and concerns formerly engaged in competition with it in interstate trade and commerce, the concerns thus acquired being all the concerns formerly competing except a few which are comparatively insignificant and maintain no effective competition in said business.

VIENNA, Aug. 11.—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria will celebrate his eightieth birthday Thursday, Aug. 12. Many grand fetes have been arranged for the occasion, and the people of the

MASSACHUSETTS CROPS

Indications that crop conditions in Massachusetts are fair are shown by the reports collected by the state board of agriculture. The hay crop was generally one of the best in recent years in quantity and quality. Market garden crops were uneven, some having suffered severely from the dry weather and others apparently coming through unimpaired. Very few potatoes had been dug and the outcome of the early crop was uncertain and was expected to be considerably shortened by drought. Later market garden crops are feeling the drought, but should recover and do well with seasonable rains.

Apples have dropped badly and the prospect for the crop was poor. Pears and plums were also reported as generally light, but peaches were rather better than usual for the state as a whole. Quinces so far as reported promised well and grapes will give a good average crop.

Rye and oats were a good crop in most sections, though there were a few complaints of oats rusting. Barley was little grown except for forage. As an early crop crop rye did well. Oats also seemed to have been very satisfactory for this purpose. Barley was doing well up to the time of making returns, but of course needs rain for its development.

GRAFT IS CHARGED

Revere Selectman Will Have to Make Answer

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Charges of graft were made and the lie passed at a meeting of the Revere board of selectmen last night.

The excitement was started by Chairman Roscoe Walsworth stating that he had received information from the state police to the effect that a member of the board was demanding a large number of tickets from a theatrical manager under pain of having his license held up. He had investigated the charges, he said, and found them true. He then named Selectman Philip Meyer as the man implicated.

Immediately Selectman Meyer jumped to his feet and, accusing Chairman Walsworth of deliberately lying, "Produce your man," said he, "and I'll meet him and talk to him." Mr. Meyer then moved that a hearing on the matter be held next Wednesday night and this was voted.

An effort was then made to hold up the license for that theatre on the ground that there was no policeman at the entrance, and Mr. Walsworth explained that when the matter was brought to the attention of the state police they acted in good faith, believing that the selectman in question was sincere.

The charge of graft was made earlier in the evening during a hearing on the collection of unpaid poll taxes by Fred S. Sackett, constable and former chief of police. Citizens crowded the selectmen's room and protested against the methods of Sackett, claiming that he was excessive in the fee he asked and that he had sprung something new on them, namely an unpaid poll tax.

He was allowed to go two years before drastic steps for their collection were taken.

The board was asked to remove Sackett as constable, but Chairman Walsworth said there was some question whether they could do this legally. A consultation of the board and
